Viet Nam Chief Ousted After Fierce Fighting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A military revolt, avowedly aimed to depose a family dictatorship and strengthen the fight against Communist infiltration, toppled pro-Western President Ngo Dinh Diem Friday.

A rebel junta headed by paratroop Col. Nguyen Chanh Thi claimed control of South Viet Nam's government after a predawn uprising in which between 20 and 30 persons were killed and many were injured.

The junta proclaimed that it is backed by all the armed forces, bulk of which is the 120,000-man army, and appealed to the people to accept the situation calmly.

Five battalions—perhaps 3,000 men — staged the uprising that made South Viet Nam the third Asian ally and beneficiary of the United States to have its government changed violently this year.

The others are South Korea, which maintains its old ties with the West, and the Kingdom of Laos, which has turned neutralist. U.S. aid has poured to South Viet Nam at the rate of about $250 million a year.

Strike Swiftly

Four elite security battalions and a U.S.-trained marine battalion struck swiftly in the darkness at 3 a.m. They seized government buildings, the National Assembly and the airport, and then moved in on the cream and white presidential palace in the heart of Saigon.

About 400 parachute troopers launched that attack.

The palace's 200 white-uniformed guards fought fiercely, but were overcome in a six-hour battle.

Armored units rumbled into the capital from Mytho, 75 miles to the south, in answer to a call from the president. Instead of rallying to Diem, however, they joined the rebels.

Fires burned in the heart of the city. Gunshots awakened the people and thousands swarmed into the streets to watch. A Vietnamese air force plane scattered leaflets urging the rebels to give up their revolt.

Paratroopers armed with grenades and submachine guns took over direction of traffic after the battle ebbed.

There was no proclamation of martial law.

No casualties were reported among the several thousand Americans living here as military or civilian advisers to this nation of 12 million.

Diem himself was reported staying on in the presidential palace, though it was not learned immediately whether he was under arrest.

Bulletin

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)— Shooting broke out in Saigon again early Saturday and a radio broadcast claimed forces backing President Ngo Dinh Diem seized key positions in the capital.

The shooting lasted about 45 minutes.

It came a full day after security forces staged an uprising against the Diem regime.

The insurgents apparently prevailed for a time but apparently established no decisive hold over the city.

Laotian Army Chief Rallies As Pro-Western

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — An Army battalion chief announced Friday he has cast aside any loyalty to the neutralist government, rallying instead to the pro-Western right-wing corner in Laos' hot political triangle.

Maj. Bounpheun Isixiengmay, chief of the 3rd Infantry Battalion at Luang Prabang, went on the radio to say he no longer recognizes Vientiane governmental authority.

Luang Prabang, the royal capital of Laos, is to the north. The rightists are centered in the south at Savannakhet. Vientiane, where Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma heads the kingdom's neutralist government, is halfway between.

The premier went to Luang Prabang Thursday for an audience with the monarch, his half-brother King Savang Vathana.

Phouma was to stay till Sunday, but he returned here immediately when he heard a rebellion was to start in Luang Prabang.

The premier said how widely the reported rebellion spreads will not be known for a few days.

The premier has been trying to make peace with the warring Pathet Lao, a pro-Communist group headed by the premier's fugitive half-brother, Prince Souvanna Vong. The Pathet Lao have been causing trouble internally for six years.

The rightists are aligned with the West. A coup replaced their Government in August. They oppose any settlement that would bring the Pathet Lao into a compromise government.

Both disputing elements in the Army are equipped and paid by the United States, which has sent Laos some $300 million in aid since 1954.

One army faction is loyal to Phouma's neutral regime. The other supports Gen. Phoumi Nosavan and his rightist revolutionary committee. The United States withheld its money for a time in September, insisting that the premier restore some stability in his ranks.

The rightists tried to advance their cause a bit further Friday when Gen. Phoumi seized a four-engine transport plane at Savannakhet. The plane was carrying French teachers. They were taken off and a paratroop platoon went aboard to fly as reinforcement to Maj. Isixiengmay in Luang Prabang.

Gen. Ouane Rathikhone, the neutralist Army commander in chief, went with the premier to the royal capital Thursday. The general did not come back with Phouma but traveled somewhere north of the capital instead.

Miss. Won't Cast Vote For Either

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's unpledged presidential electors, still hoping to block the election of John F. Kennedy, agreed Friday not to cast their eight votes for either major candidate.

The electors met with Gov. Ross Barnett at the governor's mansion and discussed the national election situation and how their votes should go.

"We shall not vote for either candidate of the major parties with their present platforms," Barnett said in a statement after the closed meeting.

"At the moment the vote in two large states is so close that we still cherish the hope that we might yet succeed in the great cause for constitutional government."

Barnett referred to the undecided battle for California's votes and GOP plans for recounts and challenges in Illinois. The Republicans also plan to check votes in other states where the count was close.

If the Democrats lose Illinois and California, Kennedy's margin would drop to only 273 electoral votes—just four more than needed for election. Any Southern state then joining Mississippi in casting its electoral votes for a third man would block the election and throw it into the House of Representatives, where each state gets one vote.

Barnett's statement did not say who the Mississippi electors might support, and Sen. Earl Evans of Canton, one of the eight electors, said no names were discussed at the session.

The governor asked electors of other Southern states — some of whom are not bound by law to support the party nominee—to "reappraise their positions with the full knowledge that they have it within their power to join with us and save their people from imminent social and economic chaos."

Gen. Decker Notes Tensions

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Gen. George H. Decker, Army chief of staff, said Friday "tensions in the world are increasing and there can be no slackening of defense expenditures."

"We have to be ready for the big war or little brush fire wars," he said. "We have to be ready to fight with or without thermonuclear weapons, which makes the job much more expensive."

The general pointed out that the United States has military forces near the borders of Iron Curtain countries.

"These forces," he said, "provide assurance of our determination and ability to deal with attack, chaos."

Nixon Aide Says VP Doesn't Plan To Dispute Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's press secretary and campaign manager said Friday Nixon does not intend to dispute John F. Kennedy's election to the presidency.

Their declarations, to a news conference, ran contrary to earlier word from an aide to the Republican National Committee that Nixon and GOP chairman Thruston B. Morton had jointly approved a decision that could lead to possible vote recounts in 11 states.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said:

"The vice president ran the race and accepts the decision of the voters. The decision made on Tuesday stands."

Morton asked Republican leaders in 11 states to recheck the vote in their areas for possible error or fraud with a view to possible entering of recount demands.

Robert Finch, Nixon's campaign manager, said he thought little could come of the maneuver. He said it could throw the outcome into the hands of uncommitted electors or into the House of Representatives which is in the hands of Democrats.

Finch added: "Any hopes we have that the national result will be overturned by local action in the states is very slight."

Nixon was asked about the national committee action upon his arrival at Miami, Fla., for a rest. He said he knew nothing about it.

The Republican committee said it had been "literally flooded with thousands of telegrams and phone calls from every state."

Finch and Klein said Nixon and members of his staff had received hundreds of telegrams and many phone calls urging an investigation into alleged election irregularities. Finch said many of these merely repeated hearsay information.

Asked for specific instances, Finch said that in Texas it was reported that 50,000 ballots were thrown out because voters did not comply with a technicality of state law by scratching out all of the names of those they opposed for president and leaving intact the name of the man they were voting for.

USIA Chief Is First To Quit Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Information Agency chief George V. Allen, who figured in a campaign dispute over U.S. prestige abroad, led off the exodus of Eisenhower administration officials Friday.

President Eisenhower, vacationing at Augusta, Ga., accepted the resignation of the career diplomat, 57, who served in key cold war posts under both the Truman and Eisenhower administration.

Allen will take over Dec. 1 as president of the Tobacco Institue, an industry organization, at a salary believed much higher than the $21,000 a year he has been getting as director of the U.S. Information Agency.

Eisenhower, who soon will hand over the presidency to Democrat John F. Kennedy, announced he had accepted these other resignations, the first of many to come:

Robert C. Hill as abmassador to Mexico, a job he has held for four years. He is returning to New Hampshire to enter the legislature.

Wilson C. Falke, as abassador to Ghana, one of the new African states. He will be replaced by Francis Russell, a career foreign service officer now serving as ambassador to New Zealand.

MM To Divorce

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn Monroe, Hollywood's blonde sex symbol, has called it quits with her third husband, Pulitzer Prize playwright Arthur Miller. Her spokesman said Friday she plans to file for divorce.

Curvaceous and sexy, Marilyn was one of Hollywood's most publicized stars and one of the world's best known women when she married Miller. He, in turn, while not as well known to the public, was widely recognized in his own profession, having won a Pulitzer Prize in 1949 for his drama, "Death of a Salesman."

Miss Monroe reportedly was ready to give up on the marriage last July, but decided to make one more try at salvaging it. However, Miller moved out on her Monday, in what was described as an amicable solution of a career conflict.

Rumors have been rife for some time that the lovely screen star and her taciturn husband were on the verge of a breakup. Only last month, Miss Monroe had occasion to deny a romantic link with French actor Yves Montand. They were co-stars in the movie, "Let's Make Love."

"They are two exciting people," her agent said of Marilyn and Montand. "Apparently this was enough to set some tongues wagging."

On Holiday

Montand and his wife, Academy Award winner Simone Signoret, were in the French countryside on a holiday when news of Marilyn's divorce plans reached Paris. A secretary of the actor said:

"I know they will be sorry to hear about this, since they knew both Marilyn and Mr. Miller together in Hollywood."

Friends here insisted no third person is involved in the split between Miss Monroe and Miller. A close friend of Miller declared:

"They have separated, but it is not an embittered estrangement. There is no bitterness on either side."

The friend, press agent James Proctor, attributed the collapse of the marriage to clashing careers.

"She is not just a star, she is an institution and must constantly be in the center of excitement and activity," he said. "The nature of Miller's work requires him to be frequently alone and away from the stresses of show business."

Miss Monroe has yet to consult an attorney, and the time and place of her divorce were not settled.

Marilyn, 34, and Miller, 11 years her senior, were married in a civil ceremony in White Plains, N. Y., June 29, 1956. Another ceremony was performed next day by a Jewish rabbi.

HEADING FOR DIVORCE—Marilyn Monroe and husband Arthur Miller were heading for Reno in this gay departure last October, but it was only for a filming chore. A spokesman for the couple announced Nov. 11 in New York that they have separated and Miss Monroe will file suit for divorce. (AP Wirephoto)

Chimps Control Assembly Line

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Union officials took a tongue-in-cheek attitude Friday as three chimpanzees worked on a furniture factory assembly line.

Bobby, Fudgie, and Candy had to be prompted on most every move as they packed several couches for shipment.

Reactions varied among plant officials and about 120 union employes who watched the chimps at work.

"It is terrific, it is terrific,' said Ben Friedman, the plant manager, who visualizes the use of chimps on assembly lines may become widespread.

"We're not worried," said Alfred Sturm, president of International Upholsterers Union Local 250.

"I can't see anything wrong with this but it is just a big joke and a publicity stunt as far as we are concerned," Sturm said.

Union workers refused to pose for photographs with the chimps. Friedman persuaded Eugene Melson, a foreman, to do so.

Star Performer

Melson agreed to be the supervisor as Bobby, the star performer, operated a foot pedal on a boxing machine. Bobby pressed the pedal momentarily and then jumped on top of the machine, knocking part of the bottom of a couch out of place.

Bobby picked up paper sacks containing wooden legs for the couches and placed a sack in each shipping box. He made a separate trip for each sack.

Fudgie finished zipping the cushion cover in each box. Candy closed the lids to the boxes.

Pictures of chimps were on the sides of the shipping boxes. Bold lettering read "made by the most modern methods available."

Manuel King, an animal trainer, was kept busy prompting the chimps from box to box. Each chimp kept trying to return to the bananas that were in a lunch box Bobby carried into the plant.

"There are too many distractions here today," King said.

Friedman got the idea of using chimps after watching a television show. He said the animals are intelligent and offer good possibilities as manpower for plant tasks that can never become entirely mechanized.

Asians Join To Stop U.N. Election

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Asian-African group teamed up with the Soviet bloc Friday and won a significant postponement of General Assembly elections to fill vacancies on the Security Council. The victory was achieved over strong opposition from the United States.

The postponement maneuver was a show of power to reinforce Asian and African claims to equitable continental sharing in the rotating, non-permanent Council memberships.

The Africans particularly are campaigning for Council representation by right of numbers and area rather than by chance or by affiliations such as in the British Commonwealth.

Latin America and Europe are constantly represented in the Security Council's smaller nation seats, but Africa and Asia are there only intermittently.

The postponement was the second defeat this week for the United States and its supporters in the 99-nation Assembly.

New Orleans Tosses Up 'Guard'

By David Zinman

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — State and city police threw protective guards around a federal judge and segregationists Friday as they battled over the city's schools.

City police assigned a 24-hour guard here to U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright, who ordered integration of first-grade classes in New Orleans Monday.

A new segregation law makes any federal official working to effect school integration subject to arrest by state police.

State police set up protective measures around segregation leaders involved in the clash with the federal government.

However, a U. S. deputy marshal served federal restraining orders in Baton Rouge on State Rep. Risley Triche, chairman of a special committee the legislature directed to take over New Orleans schools.

The orders warn Triche not to interfere with school integration.

Triche thumbed through the papers and commented only:

"The last time I was in a lawsuit I had a good lawyer. Anybody want to be my lawyer now?"

U. S. Atty. M. Hepburn Many confirmed reports that many more U. S. marshals were on their way to Louisiana to handle service of the federal restraining orders.

Deputy Marshalls

Two deputy marshals went to Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' office and tried three doors without success. Capitol offices were closed for Veterans Day.

The Associated Press learned state police officials had been served with papers telling them to keep out of the struggle.

Meanwhile, Gov. Davis, in his second surprise move in 24 hours, called the legislature back into session at 3 p.m. Sunday — 18 hours before five Negro girls are scheduled to enter two white schools in New Orleans.

Their identities and the schools they are to attend are being kept secret.

Algerian Outbreak Quieted

ALGIERS (AP) — French infantrymen and riot police Friday night finally battled down hot-headed students who turned a peaceful Armistice Day into a bloody riot against President Charles de Gaulle's Algerian policy.

The students sacked the U. S. cultural center, wrecked buses, smashed windows, shouted "Algeria is French" and stoned police who intervened with teargas.

They object to De Gaulle's plan to make this rebellion-torn North African territory an "Algerian Algeria." Although the rioters were formally disclaimed by the cooler-headed Front for French Algeria, which represents the diehard European settlers, they fought enthusiastically.

About 50 persons — rioters, police and soldiers — staggered away from the day's battlefields to get patched up in aid stations.

Soldiers were called in to help cordon off an area of five square city blocks when the rioting broke out at sundown after an afternoon lull. The students holed up in two narrow streets leading off the main street, and defied police tear gas bombs.

Nervous Ripple

The riot sent nervous ripples through the government in Paris, where De Gaulle and Premier Michel Debre conferred Friday morning. Tight security precautions were clamped on Paris. Police were out in force. More than 1,200 persons were arrested during the day — and released later — for failing to "move on" at police orders.

Security troops patrolled downtown Paris. A police helicopter circled overhead to forestall demonstrations like those in Algiers.

In Oran, west of Algiers, about 50,000 persons gathered at a downtown plaza to shout "Algeria is French!" Riot police expertly channeled the crowds from the main streets without violence.

Plans To Stay For 2 Weeks In Florida

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy arrived at West Palm Beach airport Friday night for a two-week working vacation at Palm Beach.

About 2,500 persons were on hand to greet him.

He had taken off from Washington at 5:59 p. m.

Kennedy's wife and their daughter accompanied Kennedy to Washington from Hyannis Port and were to remain in Washington.

A crowd of several thousand people cheered the Massachusetts senator at the Hyannis Port airport.

Plan To Stay

Kennedy — guarded by Secret Service agents since his election — broke away from the guard to walk along the airport fence and shake hands with well-wishers.

He told newsmen he wants and needs a rest, and is looking forward to the Florida sunshine.

Kennedy boarded his private plane with his expectant wife, Jacqueline, and their daughter, Caroline, 3. The plane is named for Caroline. She brought along her pet Welsh terrier, Charlie.

To Rejoin Wife

Mrs. Kennedy and Caroline flew with Kennedy to Washington, where she will stay. Kennedy will rejoin his wife before the baby is born. The baby is expected in about three weeks.

Kennedy's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, was at the airport to say goodby.

The president-elect told a reporter he plans to return to Hyannis Port to spend the Thanksgiving holiday.

Three of Kennedy's top assistants flew with him. They are press secretary Pierre Salinger, special assistant Keneth O'Donnell and political adviser Lawrence O'Brien. Also aboard were six Secret Service agents and three newsmen.

Kennedy's vacation schedule includes a trip to Texas to confer with Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

Ike Urges Americans To Celebrate

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday urged Americans to celebrate Thanksgiving Day by helping provide food to hungry people in other lands.

In his annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation, he called on Americans to give thanks to God on Nov. 24 for the blessings bestowed on the United States.

"It is fitting and appropriate at this time of national thanksgiving that we should remember and respond to the needs of those of other lands," he added.

"I call upon our people, while giving thanks for our blessings, to direct their thoughts to the peoples of other lands less fortunate than we.

"In particular I urge my fellow Americans to support and assist the efforts which we as a nation, working individually and in cooperation with other nations, are directing toward the solution of the world food problem."

Eisenhower asked added support and contributions to the food-for-peace program undertaken by voluntary citizens and religious groups.

The Fascinating Story In Back Of The Cross

YOU SEE it in churches. It adorns monuments, flags, and heroes' medals. Six million listeners of an internationally known broadcast wear it as an emblem in their lapels.

But few people know the fascinating story behind the symbol of the cross.

Centuries before Christ died, it was a symbol widely known throughout the ancient world. The Egyptians called it "canob," after a T-shaped instrument used to measure the annual rise of the Nile on whose bounty the life of the nation depended.

For other nations of the East, it was an "urani," and took the shape of two pieces of wood with handles. By rubbing the two sticks together, the ancients kindled sacred fire.

As early as 1225 B.C., Greek worshippers of Bacchup offered that god cakes of flour with a figure of the cross imprinted on them. The swastika, or twisted cross, which became a symbol of terror in the 20th Century, appears on the oldest medallions of the Buddhists and was a mystical good omen in many Hindu sects.

The cross was used as an instrument of national punishment in the time of Abraham. As a gallows, it was familiar to the Egyptians, Africans, Macedonians, Greeks and Romans. To various peoples it has meant a symbol of eternal life, productive power, or the life-giving qualities of the sun.

For Christians around the world, the cross is a symbol of their faith. It was on a Roman cross at Golgotha where Christ died, only to rise again three days later, so that, according to the Bible, "whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

In their days of persecution, faithful believers used the cross as a secret pass-sign, later wore it on their foreheads as a means of recognition. In 312 A.D. the Roman Emperor Constantine was inspired by a vision of the cross in the heavens to abolish crucifixion as a capital punishment and to venerate the cross as a symbol on the coin of the realm.

The early Christians portrayed Christ as the Good Shepherd, sometimes carrying a cross instead of a crook. From this envolved the custom of representing His people as sheep or lambs. By the end of the 6th century, the first form of crucifix showed the Lamb represented on the cross itself. Crucifixes came to be widely distributed by the Church as aids to devotion.

In 726 A. D. Emperor Leo II of Turkey, prohibited reverence to ikons and images. His son Constantine V subsequently outlawed every image of Christ and the saints. Despite decrees, the monks and people persisted in their veneration of the cross.

The historic Second Council of Nicaea, a conference of bishops, in 787 A. D. restored images as symbols of worship, stating: "For as often as they are seen in their pictorial representations, people who look at them are ardently lifted up to the memory and love of the originals."

The cross was the badge of a crusade in 1095, and became the emblem of the medieval military religious order of the Knights of Templars.

In the New World, the Spanlards conquered New Spain in the name of the cross. But they were astonished to find the holy emblem of their own faith already the object of worship in the temples of the Aztecs. Colossal stone monuments throughout Mexico attest to an Indian civilization which adored crosses similar in design to the Greek, Latin and Maltese forms.

The cross of Lorraine, which Joan of Arc wore into battle, became General Charles de Gaulle's symbol in leading the French resistance movement during World War II.

A Swiss welfare agency which adopted as its emblem a red cross on a white field—reversing the color scheme in the Swiss flag — in 1864 organized a conference to help the sick and wounded soldiers of the world. 16 nations attended and established the international Red Cross.

Kinds of Crosses

The simple Latin cross, with an upright and single shorter transom, is the commonest. With two transoms it is called a patriarchal cross; with three, a papal cross.

A cross widely used by Slavs and others of Eastern rites, has two transoms and a slanting crosspiece below. The Greek cross has equal arms. St. Andrew's cross is like an X; The Celtic, or Iona, cross bears a circle, the center of which is the crossing. The Maltese cross and the swastika are still more elaborate.

An example of artistic effort spent on crosses is seen in the monumental ones of market, town, and wayside in Europe and in cemeteries. Some of the finest art products of the Anglo-Saxons were stone crosses.

Edward I had several of them, the famed Eleanor crosses, erected in English villages to mark the funeral journey of his queen consort, Eleanor of Castile, who died in 1290.

Processional crosses (on poles) lend themselves to elaboration. Crosses are also worn for personal ornament. Pectoral crosses and necklace crosses have given scope for fine enameling.

Legend of the Cross

The rich history of the cross is shrouded in legend and superstition. A crucifix was said to have shed blood in 1512, during an Easter Day battle between the French and Spanish.

A statue of Christ on the cross reportedly performed healing wonders during the Plague of Malaga in 1649. Legend also has it that when St. Francis of Assisi was praying, a voice from the crucifix told him, "Repair my house." At first he took "house" to mean church; when he later learned that it meant his own spiritual life, he renounced his worldly goods and took up orders.

And the old wives' tale still persists in some quarters that the Gypsies are accursed because one of them, a wayfaring metalsmith, made the nails that were used at the Crucifixion!

Enjoying good things is not evil, but becoming slaves to pleasure is.

Priest Scores Easy Religion

RELIGIOUS leaders who present their followers with "immature concepts of God" are "promoting trouble" according to the executive director of the National Academy of Religion and Mental Health.

Rev. George C. Anderson, an Episcopal clergyman, issued the warning at a luncheon meeting of local members of the academy.

Anderson said that although religion can play an important part in promoting better mental health "simple formulas for salvation" suggested by religious counselors are not adequate to meet today's complexities.

He emphasized that "religion, laying the patterns for morality and perfectionism" has a role to play in "relieving the guilt and insecurity feelings" of its adherents.

Confessions and Forgiveness — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Psalms 32; 51; Luke 11:4; 15:11-32.

"Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile."—Psalm 32:1-2.

"When I kept silence, my bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long. For day and night Thy hand was heavy upon me: my moisture is turned into the drought of summer."—Psalm 32:3-4.

"Have mercy upon me, O God, according to Thy lovingkindness: according unto the multitude of Thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity."—Psalm 51:1-2.

"And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive everyone that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil."—St. Luke 11:4.

GOLDEN TEXT—Psalm 32:1.

Saylorsburg E.U.B. Church To Be Dedicated Sunday

SUNDAY at 3 p.m., the new St. Peter's Evangelical United Brethren Church of Saylorsburg will be formally dedicated.

The officiating clargyman will be Bishop Hermann W. Kaebnick of Harrisburg. Assisting in the service will be Dr. Carl M. Schneider of Philadelphia, and Dr. C. E. Kachel of Reading.

The pastor, Rev. Harold L. Ulmer, and the Rev. Walter S. Boyer of Reading and Dr. O. A. Hyden of Quakertown will also participate.

Both the Junior and Senior choirs of the church will sing.

The new building was occupied June 26th when a Cornerstone Laying Ceremony symbolized the completion of the project. The construction had begun in December of last year.

The old church was declared unsafe for use in January of 1959, and the congregation worshipped in the auditorium of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Company for 17 months.

Land was obtained just north of the old Brick Church on route 115; the new Buick Church is located on five acres of land purchased from Warren Altemus.

The Northeastern Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Department of Home Missions and Church Extension of the same denomination have invested money in the project.

It is hoped that in June of 1961, St. Peter's Church will become a Mission Project with a full time pastor.

The new church seats 120 with an overflow area to accomodate 120. There are rest rooms, a basement furnace room, a kitchen, a large lobby, a covered entrance way, a large parking lot, a Sunday School unit, and beautiful landscaping and driveways.

Future plans call for a parsonage and a picnic area.

Retires As President After 26 Years

RETIRING after a 26-year "trick" at the helm of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, Clarence G. Michalis was succeeded as president of the shore center by Franklin E. Vilas.

In recognition of his many years of leadership at the Institute, the board named Michalis as its chairman, and in this less active role he will continue his interest in the work benefiting merchant seamen.

The Institute's new president, has been actively engaged in work with seamen for the past ten years.

During that time he has been chairman of the special services and planning committees of the Institute's board of managers, and director and vice president of the New York Port Society.

The Seamen's Church Institute of New York is an affiliated agency of the Episcopal Church which has served merchant seamen of all faiths in the port of New York since 1834.

Today's Lesson

Scripture—Psalms 116; 117; 118.

By Newman Campbell

"A PSALM expressing love and gratitude to God as are Psalms 116 to 118 form what is called the Hallel, meaning a hymn of praise. From the word comes our word, 'Hallelujah,' a Hebrew word meaning 'praise to God,' which is found transliterated (the sounds in one language by the alphabetical signs of another), the dictionary says.

"The Hallel is sung at the three great festivals of the Jewish people — the Passover, Pentecost, and the Feast of Tabernacles. It was probably sung by our Lord and His disciples before they left the upper room on the way to the Garden of Gethsemane, on Thursday night of Passion Week (Matthew 26: 30; Mark 14:26)." — "Peloubet's Select Notes," by the Rev. Wilbur M. Smith.

"I love the Lord, because He hath heard my voice and supplications. Because He hath inclined His ear unto me, therefore will I call upon Him as long as I live."—Psalm 116:1-2.

"The sorrows of death compassed me, anf the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow. Then I called upon the name of the Lord; O Lord, I beseech Thee, deliver my soul."—Psalm 116:3-4.

"Gracious is the Lord, and righteous; yea, our God is merciful. The Lord preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and He helped me."—Psalm 116:5-6.

"Return unto thy rest, O my soul; for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee. For Thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling. I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living." — Psalms 116:7-9.

"What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits toward me? I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord."—Psalm 116:12-13.

We can all "call upon the name of the Lord" for help to live righteously, in love for our fellows, resisting the temptations that may cause us to sin. He will help us in all our problems of living in a modern world which seems so tumultuous and difficult.

Bishop Kaebnick Will Rededicate Church

SUNDAY, at the 11 a.m. worship service, Bishop Hermann W. Kaebnick of Harrisburg will rededicate the Ackermanville Evangelical United Brethren Church. Both the Youth Choir and the Senior Choir will 'sing.

The service is in recognition of the 90th Anniversary of the erection of the present building in 1870. The history of Evangelical United Brethren work goes back to 1850 when a circuit rider came to the area to establish a class, as younger churches were called in those days.

Recently the church auditorium has been completely redecorated. Professional service was given by Hugh Moore, Jr., of Easton. The Ladies Aid Society has nearly completed the furnishing of the kitchen in the new educational unit. The Youth Fellowship is refurbishing the altar area.

Beginning Sunday at 7:30 p. m. a week of Evangelistic Services will be held in the rededicated church. This is a united effort of the Evangelical United Brethren Churches of the Slate Belt which includes the Bangor Salem Church, the Pen Argyl Bethany Church, and the Ackermanville Church.

The evangelist will be Dr Carl M. Schneider, Conference Superintendent, of Philadelphia. The song leader will be Elwood Parry of Bethlehem. The meetings will continue nightly, ending Nov. 20.

The pastor, Rev. Harold L. Ulmer, will assist Bishop Kaebnick in the Rededication Service. Harvey J. Miller will present the financial report. The 90th Anniversary Committee is made up of the following persons Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest O. Eyer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Orth, Mr. and Mrs. George Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Sandercock, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller.

Saylorsburg

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Siegel and son, of Detroit, Mich., spent several days with Mr. Siegel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Siegel, who returned to Detroit with their son, where they will spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Getz, daughters Gloria Pearl and Shirley; grandchildren Billy and Melodyann, of Bushkill Center; William Neilson, Minisink Hills, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh.

Mrs. Grant Knowles and Mrs. Anna Serfas, delegates from te Mount Eaton Sunday School, attended the 65th annual convention of the Monroe County Sunday School Assn. in the Methodist Church, East Stroudsburg, Nov. 2 and 3.

Yes, faces are different the world over. But hearts have a common hunger. For Hope . . . Life . . . Truth.

Therefore, expressing the fervor of the citizens and churches of this brave, free land, the American Bible Society has sought for 144 years to translate and distribute the Scriptures for every nation and tribe.

Many local congregations, directly or through their denominations, are supporting this vital work. In addition, the suggested readings which appear regularly in these advertisements are provided by the American Bible Society, and reach you as another contribution of American citizens and churches to this important cause.

You see, worldwide Bible reading is the simple, practical expression of one of our fundamental convictions: The Bible IS the Book for Everyone.

Tonight—at the dinner table or in a quiet moment—millions of American homes will put that conviction into earnest, reverent, daily practice! Will yours?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Terrible Bomb

Both the United States and the Soviet Union are working on a new type of nuclear bomb, one which would produce a death-dealing neutron bombardment with a minimum of heat and blast, and no lingering radiation to deny taking possession of the territory so attacked.

This is the warning of Thomas E. Murray, former member of the Atomic Energy Commission and now consultant to the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, who has access to classified information.

Mr. Murray complains that the United States is handicapped and the Soviets favored by the present suspension of nuclear tests. This has been in effect since the Geneva atomic talks started two years ago, and the United States has had no assurance that the suspension was being faithfully observed by the Soviets.

Mr. Murray's views gave further expert support to the basic position of both presidential candidates. They differed on their approaches to an atomic agreement with the Soviets, but both refused to gamble with U.S. security by accepting an indefinite extension of the moratorium on nuclear tests.

The Ordeal Of Richard Nixon

In the waning hours of the campaign, Vice President Nixon wearily remarked that, if he ever wrote a book about running for President, he'd call it, "The Exquisite Agony."

It's an apt title for the memoirs of any man who has sought this nation's highest office. But it describes especially well the ordeal of Richard Nixon because his was such a personal one. He fought well, and he fought almost alone.

Mr. Nixon ran his remarkable race as the candidate of a party badly showing eight years of organizational neglect. His party had considerably less than a majority of voter registrations. He had neither the laurels of a war hero nor the resources of a vast fortune.

He had, in his long and lonely struggle, only those personal resources of character and conviction which made him an exceptionally active and capable Vice President. And in the campaign, as during his brilliant career in Congress, he stuck to his belief in the individual and refused to promise a welfare Utopia.

These qualities were very nearly enough. Despite the huge resources of his opponent, despite the variety of big city and labor machines arrayed against him, despite a disunited party which all but deserted him in key areas, Richard Nixon came very close.

Where there was a strong state or local Republican party, it was largely because of his efforts to build one.

We sometimes disagreed with Mr. Nixon's campaign strategy and his emphasis of one issue over another, but we find the results he achieved truly impressive. His ordeal is now ended. And we would say he has nothing to be ashamed of, and a great deal to be proud of. —Wall Street Journal

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Urban Civilization

What the recent election has proved is that the urbanization of American life has altered the thinking, perhaps even the nature of the American. A century ago he was, in the main, a farmer, a rancher, a miner; he lived generally in an isolated farm house with his family about him, even to the third generation.

In 1860, the population of the United States was 31,513,000 compared to about 180,000,000 today. In 1860, the rural population was 25,226,000 as compared with 6,216,000 in cities; today, the figures would show a reverse ratio. Urban population was in 1959, 104,990,000; rural 68,717,000, exclusive of the military.

Ira de A. Reid said at the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth about the urban environment:

"It is the area of the population explosion with its high fertility, low morality, and increasing employment of mothers. It is an area where religious affiliation is increasing, and the pursuit of pleasure is more possible than ever.

"This urban world was molded in part by forces which have given us the moral order of the slum, the need for bohemia in an otherwise well-ordered society, the have-to-look-happy families of our young executives, the anxious ex-urbanite, the contented though dominated small town dweller, and the 'organization child' who has learned to package his personality for sale to his 'organization parent.' "

Politically, the rural community was more homogenous than the urban which is a multi-group community. The rural community could accept isolationism as a doctrine because it was largely isolated, integrated, intermarried, monolithic in its ideas.

It is for this reason that it was possible to say that a state like Michigan was Republican and Virginia Democratic.

Today, it is not possible to make such estimates because Michigan is an industrial state with a large urban population living on wages in industry which is concerned with world markets, whereas Virginia is offended by the Big City social and economic ideas of the North.

Even rural society has been changed by the automobile, radio and television so that a remote farm is close to an urban center, reads an urban newspaper and probably a New York City edited magazine.

In fact, one New York newspaper is rapidly developing monopolistic practices which may ultimately change the character of the rural press. Samuel W. Blizzard said this well:

"Rural dwellers and farmers are a minority group in a multiple-industry society where economic values are paramount and farmers are consumers, as all producers are.

"This fact has restructured rural society, especially for the commercial farmer as distinct from the traditional farmer, undermining the traditional Protestant and Puritan ethic of work, industriousness, frugality, and thrift that was basic to the rural economy. In the modern rural community where farmers operate like businessmen everywhere, taking calculated risks and using money and credit as a means to an end, this old Protestant ethic is no longer important."

The Calvinistic ethic which was the basis of American life for nearly three centuries has been pounded hard by all sorts of modern trends and newer peoples in our city communities.

It is remarkable, however, that Protestantism, in its various forms of individualitic, non-conformistic society, does survive and in the present period is making a new progress which surprises even its own leaders.

Such a figure as Billy Graham and such a movement as Moral Re-Armament cannot be ignored in any appraisal of what is happening to the United States in this year 1960.

Population shifts have also altered the centers of significance. For instance, the development of the Southwest has brought both Texas and California into major areas of population. Many of the Southern states are becoming industrialized and Northern and Eastern families are moving into the industrial cities of the South, bringing with them ideas and traditions which are alien to the South.

Europeans criticize the facade of the United States. All neon signs do not look much alike. However, the people are not the same. There is an enormous population difference between Hamtramck and Beverly Hills, between Miami Beach and Scranton, Pa.

We are the most varied people among nations and the process of assimilation is much slower than is generally assumed. Our human population is not like identical neon signs. It is this vast variety, this multi-group character of our cities which is altering political characteristics throughout the country.

If swingin' Sam Snead ever loses his superb golfing touch, he can always make a good loving out of telling stories on TV a la George Burns or Herb Shriner.

Snead swears he was matched against a gorilla one day. The gorilla wore plus fours, a fancy golf shirt and cap, and watched calmly while Snead boomed a drive 260 yards down the first fairway, then took two putts for a regulation par. The gorilla's 380-yard drive, however, left him right on the apron of the green. He studied the lay of the green carefully, moistened finger to test the wind, then thoughtfully pulled a putter out of his bag.

"You know what that gorilla did then?" avers Snead. "He took a nice, smooth swing with that putter — and smacked his putt another 380 yards!"

"Why do we go to sea every morning?" an old salt in Nantucket explained to a nosey tourist. "Just for the halibut."

Program Revision

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press
News Analyst

A great many people, including some stock market experts, expect John F. Kennedy to modify his social program, from the standpoint of expense, in view of the congressional situation and the narrowness of his vote lead.

But if there's one thing the campaign showed it was Kennedy's willingness to stand and slug for his sincere beliefs. He had to backtrack sometimes from positions taken on the spur of the moment, but on the preconsidered points of his platform he was highly consistent.

Courage is certainly not lacking in a man who would take his stand beside Martin Luther King at a moment when he knew the turn of a few Southern votes could mean everything to him, and at a moment when his running mate was trying desperately to save those votes.

That does not mean that the Kennedy social program, which Vice President Richard M. Nixon called Kennedy's spending program, will not be revised.

Kennedy knows just as well as anyone what he will be up against in the conservative-controlled Congress. Even the most liberal-minded of his followers would not demand that he beat his brains out before there is some clarification of what his relations with Congress will be.

It is more likely to be Congress than Kennedy which makes the revisions, if any.

The prospective attitude of Congress, however, must be weighed against the possibility of a strong popular demand for improved security programs if the business recession continues.

Analysis of the election returns is revealing the existence of more depressed areas in the country than had been realized.

Some Britons are worried about the sexy paperbacks being imported from the United States. They are objecting to some of our inocuous titles such as:

'One Man Wasn't Enough for Me," and "They Wouldn't Let Me Be Good."

They also complained that one of our magazines described how a teenage moll of a gang boss carved up her rival with a switchblade.

If the British are worried about the influx of our paperbacks, just wait till we start sending them our TV programs.

Off The Record

George Graff, the affable gentleman of Stroudsburg, took his usual stroll down Main St. after election day and said, "Not a thing has changed."

George, of course, was referring to the change of commands in Washington, D. C. from Republican to Democrat.

Remember, John Whitehead, the former head football coach at Stroudsburg High. Well, the big, round man is doing all right by himself up Middletown, N. Y. way.

John has guided his Middletown High eleven to first place in the Class A Sullivan County League with a 4-1-1 record.

Like always, Whitehead is stressing defense as he has limited the opposition to less than a touchdown a game in six outings—tops in his section.

Last year Whitehead was named "Coach of the Year" in the New York area despite only winning two games.

Miss Frances Elaine Price, 383 Hancock St., East Stroudsburg, will take part in a fifth-year teacher-training program at John Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.

Miss Price was one of 44 students from 38 different colleges chosen for the special program.

The East Stroudsburg resident graduated last June from Drew University, Madison, N. J.

Mike Leggieri, the pizza king of Stroudsburg, says that prices in the not-to-distant future will go down.

Mike bases his thinking on a new regime in the nation's Capitol and the pressure of competition.

"It can't help but go down. After-all, they (prices) can't go any higher," Mike says.

Veterans Guide

Q—I am a Korea veteran, discharged in 1953, and I am taking a correspondence course for college credits under the GI Bill. My eight-year-from-date-of discharge will be up in 1961, but at the rate I am going I will not be able to complete my course in time. Can I get an extension from VA?

A—No. The law says you must complete your GI education within eight years from your separation from the armed services. Better try to work in the courses you need before your deadline.

Q—I am now receiving pension from the VA, and have a right to switch to the new system of payments which took effect July 1, 1960. If I decide I want to switch over, is there any deadline before which I must make the change?

A—No. You may make the change any time. However, once you make it, your decision is final. So be sure you're right before you switch. See your nearest VA office if you need help.

Q. How do I check my social security account, and how much does it cost?

A. The service of providing you with a record of your earnings is furnished free of charge by the Social Security Administration. Contact your nearest social security office and tell them you want to check your earnings record. This office will furnish you a special postcard for you to complete and mail.

Q. I married last year and did not have my name changed on my social security card until recently. My employer used my married name even though the card showed my maiden name. Will I get credit for the wages that were reported incorrectly?

A. Yes. You should complete the postcard form, though, and ask for a statement of your earnings. When you receive your earnings record, get in touch with the social security office if these earnings have not been shown.

The Allen-Scott Report

Demand For Guarantees

By Robert S. Allen
and Paul Scott

Washington — Premier Castro is causing a big boom in one field of U. S. enterprise.

Since the Soviet-aligned Cuban dictator began seizing U. S. property early this year, American businessmen have flooded the International Cooperation Administration (in charge of foreign aid) with applications for government guarantees of their foreign investments.

More than 1,000 requests for such guarantees on investments totaling $1,207,017,771 have been received.

That is double the number and amount now in effect in 27 countries.

Currently the government is guaranteeing against confiscation, war damage and currency losses 398 investments totaling $545,334,772.

Under this program, launched in 1948 in the Truman Administration, U. S. businessmen pay ½ of one percent of their guaranteed investments per year. The plan is administered by ICA, with the Export-Import Bank acting as fiscal agent.

Total guarantee authorization voted by Congress is $1 billion.

So far, this program has made money for the government. No claims have had to be paid.

As a result of this factor and the greatly increased demand for this form of foreign investment insurance, ICA officials have decided to ask the new Congress to double the guaranteee authorization — to $2 billion.

This favored by Senator J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and a leading supporter of this program.

Fulbright also would extend the ICA's authority to grant guarantees. That now expires in June 1967. Under this law, ICA can approve guarantee contracts for a maximum of 20 years.

Sleeping Beauty — Although this government insurance was in effect for nearly 12 years, it evoked slight interest among U. S. businessmen doing business abroad.

Strikingly illustrative of this indifference is the fact that foremost among those ignoring this protection were the numerous large and small business interests in Cuba, with investments totaling well over $1 billion.

As a consequence, not one cent of the $1 billion in plants, utilities and other holdings so far expropriated by Castro was covered by these guarantees.

Belatedly, when the bambastic dictator started grabbing U. S. property, interested businessmen finally awakened to this long-overlooked law and hurriedly applied for guarantees. But it was too late.

Secretary Christian Herter decided Castro's clearcut alignment with Russia made such guarantees too risky, and ICA was directed not to issue any.

Today, Cuba is no longer on the list of countries eligible for guarantees.

Castro's pilfering tactics did have one salubrious effect. They sharply alerted U. S. businessmen to the value of this 12-year-old foreign investment guarantee program, and throughout this year ICA has done a land office business in granting this insurance.

Of the $1,207,000,000 in new applications, upwards of $710 million is for investments in Latin America. More than a third of that total, $282 million, is for Argentina, where the government may be toppled at any time.

Guarantees sought for U. S. investments in other Latin American countries are:

Bolivia—$83,680,000.
Colombia—$53,551,900.
Guatamala—$51,378,000.
Haiti—$51,339,000.
Chile—$45,920,000.
Nicaragua—$42,980,414.
Costa Rica—$37,617,346.
Ecuador—$30,746,000.
Peru—$3,936,200.
Honduras—$3,687,350.
Paraguay—$1,951,800.
El Salvador—$1,434,950.

In addition, U. S. businessmen operating in the Middle East and Far East have sought this government insurance, particularly against the risk of war.

Illustrative of that are war risk applications totaling $5,623,500 on Formosa; $4,500,000 in Jordan; $3,724,500 in Thailand; $3,141,100 in South Vietnam; $2,922,500 in South Korea; $756,000 in Israel.

The flood of applications cover a wide range of companies and products. Among the former are:

W. R. Grace & Co., Monsanto Chemical Co., National Biscuit Co., Olin Mathieson Chemical Co., Otis Elevator Co., Raytheon Manufacturing Co., Standard Oil of New Jersey, Westinghouse Air Brake Co., Dow Chemical International Ltd., Edwin W. Pauley & Phillips Petroleum Co., Phillips Petroleum Co., American Home Products Corp., Greenfield Corp., General Mills, Warner Lambert, Tidewater Oil Co., General Foods Corporation, Phelps Dodge Corporation, B. F. Goodrich Co.

Still Spreading Out — World tension and frequent crises are having no effect on the continued expansion of U. S. investments abroad. Commerce Department experts estimate such investments will exceed $3.8 billion this year, an increase over last year's total. Approximately 40 percent of this huge foreign investment is in Western Europe. The U. S. is serving stern notice on its allies that further increases will be sought in their quotas on imports from this country. This demand will be formally presented at a forthcoming meeting on tariff and trade in Geneva. Its deliberations are expected to last through most of December.

Inside You And Yours

Helpful Tears

Burton H. Fern, M. D.

Teardrops are lifesavers! They not only make Dad give in when Mom wants another new dress but they also help baby grow up strong and healthy.

Human lives depend on tear-jerking sobs, especially in heated homes.

For two years, new citizens have to depend entirely on Mom. But she never understands lip-biting, lip-sucking baby language. Little tots have to rely on crying, a language any mother can translate. They cry for food, for diaper changes, for just about everything.

Crying would be dangerous if tears didn't flow down ducts to moisten the nose. Without tears, the air gushing in and out with each bellow would evaporate moisture, leaving dry nosey insides that would crack like clay in the hot Arizona sun.

Kills Germs

Tearful moisture covers delicate tissue inside the nose with germ-killing lysozyme. Dr. Flemming wrote about tears flowing over with lysozyme long before he discovered penicillin. And lysozyme kills germs penicillin can't touch.

Dry noses lose their bounce. When dryness mats microscopic hairs — which usually throw out irritating cinders and other trouble makers — they can't work as nasal bouncers.

You can see that, without moisture, no nose is in shape to battle infection. And so for centuries, casualty lists in the fight for survival were filled with little babies who never dropped a tear. Two years of dry crying can snuff out any tot's life.

Too Dry

Heated homes make things worse. The dryness in warm wintry homes strikes the nose like desert air. Today's modern heating systems have conquered cold but not colds. They dry noses until almost everyone in the house is sniffling and sneezing.

Tear glands can't keep pace with dry furnace heat. That furnace humidifier helps, but you need more than a drop in the bucket. Experts figure that the average heated room needs a gallon of vaporized water each day.

Humidifiers Help

But don't cry! You can buy humidifying pans that hook behind radiators and special sponges that attach to hot air vents in many stores around town.

Junior's vaporizer can help, too. So can that tea kettle on the stove. Water-filled pots and pans can also spread moisture around the house.

If everyone doesn't take to this humidity idea, you can always turn on the tears for persuasion!

Social Security Guide

Q. I probably could file for social security benefits anytime now, but I'm still trying to get a birth certificate. What do you suggest?

A. A lot of people worry about proving that they are old enough to get social security benefits. Some people think a birth certificate is required and they don't have one. Well, although the best proof of age is a birth certificate, many kinds of documents can be used as proof of your age. Don't delay filing your claim because you don't have a birth certificate. Your date of birth can be proven from an old family Bible, insurance policies you've had for some time, and children's birth certificates showing parents' ages at time of child's birth. World War I draft records or census records or voter's registration can be used also.

Q. What proof of earnings does a self-employed person need when he applies for social security?

A. When a self-employed person comes in to file for social security benefits, he needs to furnish a copy of last year's income tax return which we have to keep permanently. He also needs to furnish proof that he has filed this return with Internal Revenue Service; this proof can be the money order stub or cancelled check used to pay the tax. The latest tax return is needed too.

Q. If I understand it correctly, I can get my social security checks right away after I make application, if I have supporting proofs to present promptly. Is this right?

A. It takes a little time to start benefits because you must apply and have certain proofs, and your benefit amount must be figured. Of course, this time is cut down when you bring in all necessary papers on your first visit. These are proof of age, proof of marriage, and evidence of your last year's earnings—perhaps a W-2 form or a copy of your tax return if you are self-employed. Even when you do bring all these proofs with you, there'll be some time between the day you file your application and the day you receive your first check.

Q. I worked steadily until about a year ago when I fell from a scaffold. I have not worked since then and my doctor tells me that it isn't likely I can ever work again. What can my social security office advise me about application under the disability insurance program?

A. Your social security district office will assist you in making application for disability insurance benefits. They will also provide you with the necessary medical report forms. You are then asked to have your doctor or a hospital complete the forms, giving information about your impairments, their history, severity, test results and treatment. Your doctor does not decide if you are disabled under the law. The medical report he fills out, together with information about your education, work experience and other abilities, are considered by a team of doctors and others to determine if your condition keeps you from doing any substantial gainfu. work. Bring with you any receipt you may have for workmen's compensation award or possible Veterans Administration statements about your disability. Do not go to any expense if you don't have supporting papers which might be requested. The social security office can suggest proofs and likely availability.

Q. I have received a record of my earnings, and find that I do not have social security credit for all my wages. What steps do I take to get credit for the wages that are missing?

A. Get in touch with your social security office for help in correcting the record. When you visit the office, take with you the receipts your employer furnished and any other records showing the wages you were paid and the periods that you worked.

Q. I have been told I should check my social security record every three years. Why it it necessary to check so often?

A. There is a limit to the period within which certain corrections can be made. Generally, your record becomes final after three years. Therefore, if you wait more than three years, your record will be considered final and, except in unusual cases, cannot be corrected.

Monroe Vote May Reach 17,931

MONROE County's total vote in last Tuesday's presidential election may reach 17,931, only 2,113 less than the county's total registration of 20,044, Monroe County commissioners reported yesterday.

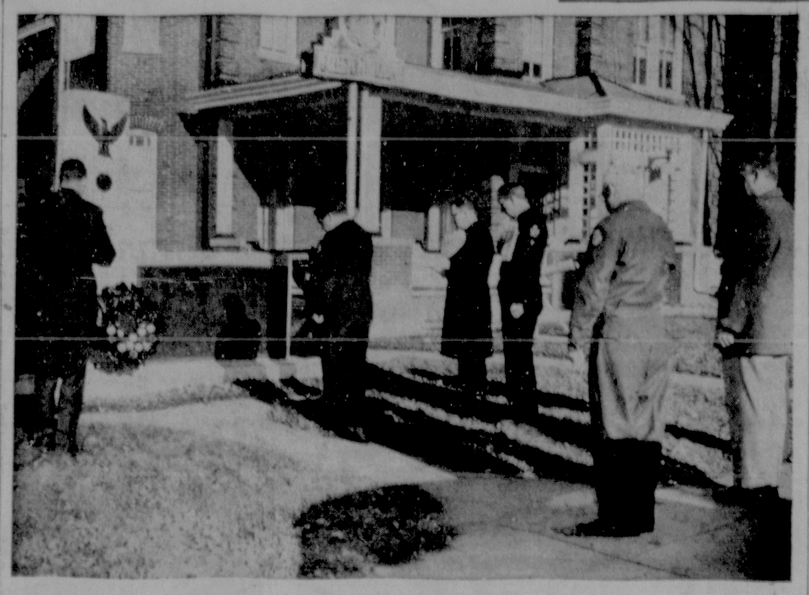

The commissioners, sitting at the county election board, reported 17,442 ballots cast in Tuesday's voting. In addition, 366 civilian absentee ballots have been returned to them and 123 military ballots have been mailed, of which 114 have been returned.

Next Friday

The absentee ballots will be counted next Friday, beginning at 10 a.m., the commissioners said.

To validate the election, officials of four election districts will be required to report to the courthouse to sign election oaths which they failed to fill out on Tuesday.

The districts involved are the second and fourth wards of East Stroudsburg, Smithfield Township and the southern district of Stroud Township.

State Police Commandant Dies At 48

SGT. Glenn D. James, 48, commandant of the Milford substation of the Pennsylvania State Police, died suddenly on Wednesday night. He lived on George St., Milford.

Sgt. James and his family were active in community affairs in Milford for many years while he was stationed with the local State Police detail. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Milford; Oriental Star No. 588, F. and A.M., of Pecksville, Pa.; Keystone Body, A.A.S.R., Valley of Scranton, and the Fraternal Order of Police.

He entered the police training school in 1937, one year before the highway patrol and the state police merged. He served with Troop "B" at New Milford, out of Wyoming Barracks in the third district, as well as Troop "C", with headquarters at Blakley of which the Milford substation is part.

Started In '41

He first saw service in Milford in 1941 and left in 1943 for duty at Honesdale and Blakely headquarters, where he has been stationed ever since.

Born in West Pittston, on March 4, 1912, he was a son of Elmer and Margaret Mitchell James and was a graduate of the West Pittston High School in 1932.

Sgt. James was married on Aug. 2, 1941 to the former Lois B. Colburn, at Oneonta, N.Y., who survives him, with one daughter, Mary, presently a freshman at Susquehanna University, Selingsgrove, Pa.

He is also survived by a brother, Ellsworth of West Pittston and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held today with interment at Wyoming Cemetery, Wyoming.

Five SA Teachers At School

FIVE Salvation Army Sunday School teachers of the East Stroudsburg Corps are among 1,000 attending a Salvation Army Sunday School conference in New York City yesterday through Sunday Capt. Charles Drummond announced.

The conference, the first of its kind conducted by the Salvation Army, has been planned to further their undergird Salvation Army work with children and young people. Among topics to be discussed will be how to attract "difficult-to-reach" children to Sunday School and how to make the Sunday School program more effective.

Theme of the conference, to be held in The Salvation Army Centennial Memorial Temple, will be "Reach and Teach—for Christ." The Sunday School teachers attending come from 11 Northeastern states. In those 11 states, The Salvation Army has 349 Corps and a Sunday School enrollment of 35,702.

Those attending the conference from this community include: Mrs. George Gofus, teacher in the junior department; Clarence Hineline, teacher in the junior department; Miss Betty Sargent, teacher of the teen age girls; Miss Lucy Counterman, teacher in the primary department and Capt. Drummond, commanding officer of the East Stroudsburg Corps.

Family Fare

Just Between Us——

—By Bobby Westbrook

Somehow in all the tension and activities and repercussions of election week, Veteran's Day seems to have been lost in the shuffle. At least, there were an awful lot of people checking their mail boxes yesterday morning a couple of times before they remembered that it was a legal holiday.

The school children remembered it well enough with a half holiday — and so, probably, did their parents; but there were few flags flying. The parade had been postponed, there was so much campaign oratory that nobody wanted to listen to another speech, even if there had been a town meeting sort of affair.

As a matter of fact we seem to have lost quite a few holidays from our calendar — at least in their original sense of being days dedicated to a particular purpose. And that is particularly true of the Fall holidays.

We've definitely lost Thanksgiving — oh, not as a day off from work — and there is still turkey with cranberry sauce, although often eaten by fragments of a family in a restaurant instead of in thundering herds at Grandmother's house.

But we've lost it as a season of Thanksgiving. The Halloween masks no sooner come down from the shop windows than the Christmas decorations go up — and there you are, in quite a different mood.

But the world's in a different mood, and customs change. Most holidays today aren't occasions for getting together but for flying apart — for going someplace not possible within the limits of a working week.

In fact, addicted as we are to getting together in particular groups: clubs, lodges, oranizations of all kinds, we no longer want to get together as a community. Nor, I sometimes think, as a family unit.

Which is why I was glad to see that one PTA is including the pupils in its plans for its open house, as guests not performers. I'm heartily in accord with the new PTA concept that they're job is parent-education not pupil-exploitation, but do you realize how few activities there are where parents and children can go together?

Analomink PTA Open House Tues.

The Analomink Parent-Teachers Assn. will observe National Education Week with an open house on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock when parents are urged to visit the classrooms, confer with the teachers and inspect the school plant.

At the business meeting, Principal Harry Anton will introduce the district personnel who work with Analomink pupils: Mrs. Constance Pentz, music; Mrs. Edna Standard, nurse; and Miss Eloise Bryan, psychologist, each of whom will speak briefly.

There will be an attendance banner awarded and a Chinese auction will be held during the social hour for which members are asked to bring contributions. Refreshments will be served.

Schools Of District To Be Visited

Elementary Curriculum Study for the elementary school parents of Stroud Union school district will be held on Wednesday, November 16, for a tour of all the elementary schools in the district.

The school bus will leave the Arlington Heights School at 9:15 and return for lunch at the same school. Any parent desiring to accompany the group may do so by calling Roger Dunning at HA 1-2880 or Mrs. Evelyn Lashak at HA 1-6223 on Monday for reservations.

Curriculum committee members are also requested to call either Dunning or Mrs. Lashak for confirmation. There will be a small charge for the luncheon and a large group can be accommodated.

Candle Making Demonstrated For Stroud Club

Stroud Community Club had a program on candle making at their meeting on Thursday night at the PP&L Service Center. Mrs. Betty Noack demonstrated various methods of making candles and decorating them for the holidays.

Mrs. Perry Bean announced a sewing contest sponsored by the federation and asked anyone interested to call her for details.

The members also voted to endorse the proposed County Federation project to award a scholarship.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. E. Heimbach, Mrs. Eva Smith, Mrs. R. Rowe, Mrs. E. Rowe, Mrs. Forest Haney, Mrs. E. Slutter, Mrs. E. Verway, Mrs. John Abruzzese, and Mrs. Stanley Grace.

The next board meeting will be held Dec. 1.

Open House At Morey On Monday

Open House will be held at the B. F. Morey School on Monday from 7 to 9:30 p. m. Children are to accompany their parents into the classrooms where they will meet with the teachers. Miss Gunn, school nurse, has requested that all parents of first grade pupils meet with her in the school lunch room at 7:30.

Teachers and home room mothers are: Kindergarten, Mrs. Nancy Treible, teacher; Mrs. Michael Frantz and Mrs. George Litts, morning class; Mrs. Joseph Fetherman and Mrs. Gaylord Heberling afternoon class; Grade 1, Mrs. Marion Baldwin, teacher, Mrs. Lester Cramer and Mrs. Richard Doleiden; Grade 1, Mrs. Helen Igler, teacher, Mrs. Leonard Randolph and Mrs. Joseph Small.

Grade II, Mrs. Romayne Rough, teacher, Mrs. David Jones and Mrs. Chester Cramer; Grade II, Mrs. Miriam Kern, teacher, Mrs. Marguerite Bachman, Mrs. Calvin Schoch; Grade III, Mrs. Doris Barry, teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Everitt, Mrs. William Hoffman; Grade III, Mrs. Elizabeth Elsenberger, teacher, Mrs. William Kopenhaver and Mrs. Harold Burch.

Grade IV, Mrs. Ruth Harvey, teacher; Mrs. George Frantz and Mrs. Arthur Nevil;; Grade IV, Russell Treible, teacher, Mrs. Paul Hull, Mrs. Edgar Liebert; Grade V, Mrs. Naomi Barber, teacher, Mrs. Edward Rahn and Mrs. Walter Slutter; Grade VI, Miss Gladys C. Woltjen, teaching principal, Mrs. William Kendall and Mrs. Edward Odzer.

PTA memberships will be accepted at this meeting.

Larry Zaccaro Honored On Fifth Birthday

Larry Zaccaro Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zaccaro of 73 Ransberry Ave., East Stroudsburg, was the guest of honor at a party celebrating his fifth birthday this week.

Joining the games were 12 of his friends. A decorated cake served as the centerpiece of the table which was decorated in blue and white. Prizes were won by Patricia Corby and Philip Stucker.

Children present were Debbie, David and Gregory Christine, Dawn, John Jr. and Jeffrey Eilenberger, Kathy Felker, Jeffrey Kindrew, Patricia Corby, Philip Stucker, Roberta Shively and guest of honor, Larry Zaccaro Jr.

Also attending were Mrs. Elmer Christine, Mrs. John Eilenberger Sr., Mrs. Robert Felker, Rose Zaccaro, Larry's paternal grandmother and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Albertson, his maternal grandparents.

Also sending gifts were Sherry and Gregory Peechatka.

Larry is attending kindergarten at the J. M. Hill School.

Casserole Cookery On Rise; Here's Dish For Sardines

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

How the culinary scene changes!

When the first major book on casserole cookery was published, a few years before World War I, the author was all agog at the wonders of fireproof earthenware pots and dishes that could be cooked in and then brought to the table.

Listen to what, in 1912, she included under these utensils: marmites, ramequins, cocottes, au gratin dishes and souffle cases. All used today, but French chefs in our hotels are more likely to call them by these names than most of us.

And another change: nowadays fireproof dishes are as likely to be metal or heat-resistant glass as they are earthenware.

Although our early casserole-cookbook author, the principal of a Philadelphia cooking school, gave some traditional delightful recipes, she didn't play up the real possibilities.

It wasn't until the early 1940's, when Marian Tracy's famous "Casserole Cookery" appeared, that American cooks were captivated by the opportunities in "main-dish-all-in-one-utensil" meals. Mrs. Tracy had the wit to incorporate her casserole dishes in short, easy, interesting menus and this way of serving was launched.

After her first venture, Marian Tracy wrote "More Casserole Cookery" and four years ago the two books came out in a combined revised edition, "Casserole Cookery Complete."

Other authors took advantage of this new interest and, for cookbook collectors, here is what I find followed the first Tracy books:

"The New Cook It In A Casserole" by Florence Brobeck; "Casserole Magic" by Lousene Rousseau Brunner; "Casserole Specialties" by Nedda Casson Anders; and "The Casserole Cookbook" by John and Marie Roberson. Jim Beard also included a great many dishes for cooking "en casserole" in one of his books.

Among all these casserole recipes, the sardine has been practically ignored. Sardine tarts, sardine pizza, a recipe for baking sardines in a simple sauce and one for using them in a stuffing for green peppers are all I find. To rectify this neglect, here is a delicious dish that my tasters like for lunch or Sunday-night supper.

Sardines And Eggs Au Gratin

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
3 tablespoons grated sharp cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon salt, white pepper
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
4 hard-cooked eggs
1 can (3¾ ounces) brisling sardines
1 can (1 pound and 3 ounces) whole tomatoes (drained)
2 tablespoons butter (melted)
1 cup finely diced soft bread (crusts removed)

Melt 3 tablespoons butter over low heat; blend in flour. Add milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Stir in cheese, salt, a dash of pepper and mustard; remove from heat. Halve eggs lengthwise and place around sides of a shallow casserole or heat-resistant deep-dish pie plate (9½ by 1½ inches). Top each egg half with a sardine. Place drained tomatoes in center. Pour over sauce; top with remaining sardines; sprinkle with 2 tablespoons melted butter mixed with crumbs. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until hot and bubbly — about 30 minutes; if top is not browned, place under broiler a few seconds. Makes 4 servings.

Stork Wins Shower Race; Dad Opens Gifts

The Singer home at Hawthorne Terrace, Stroudsburg, was the setting for a stork shower for Mrs. Lowell Kresge given by her sisters, Mrs. Jean Singer and Mrs. Joan Tuthill.

Since the stork had beaten them to the shower, the proud father opened the gifts which had been placed under a decorated pink and blue umbrella. The baby, a litle girl, arrived on October 29 and has been named Malinda Jane.

The gifts were then taken to the Kresge home where Mrs. Kresge found them as a surprise on her return from the hospital. However, she did miss out on the refreshments which were served at her party.

Guests included, Mrs. Mary Storm, Mrs. Matilda Kresge, Mrs. Lloyd Bentzoni, Mrs. Rita Schultz, Mrs. Heddi Pfaffinger, Mrs. Ann Fenin, Mrs. Madalyn Murray, Mrs. Helen Barnes, Mrs. Evelyn Kresge, Miss Connie Sandt, Miss Joyce Kresge, Miss Katrina Kresge, Miss Mandy Singer.

Also sending gifts were Mrs. Robert Reaser Sr., Mrs. Ethel Smith, Mrs. Clinton Kresge, Mrs. Arthur Storm, Mrs. Stanley Kresge, Mrs. Richard Searfoss.

Wooddale WSCS

Wooddale — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Wooddale Union Church will meet at the home of Richard Lesoine on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Pocono Alumni

Tannersville — Members of the Pocono Twp. Alumni will meet Monday night at 7:30 at the school in Tannersville.

Woman's Club To Hear Tale Of An Italian Summer

The Woman's Club of the Stroudsburgs will meet Monday afternoon at the Stroud Community Club with tea at 1:30 followed by the program which will feature a talk by Mrs. Horace Westbrook, social editor of The Daily Record.

Mrs. Westbrook will speak on her experiences in Italy this Summer when she visited her sister in Rome, dwelling particularly on the people and places off the beaten tourist track. Mrs. Westbrook, has been a working newspaper woman since her graduation from Oberlin College and has been closely associated with many civic and welfare groups in this community.

Mrs. Thomas McCool will lead the pledge of allegiance and Mrs. Roger A. Dunning will give the invocation.

Hostess chairman at the opening tea are Mrs. Arthur Slee, Mrs. Henry Sirrey and Mrs. Edwin Oettel.

Dawn Lois April

Parents Visit Gap School

Delaware Water Gap—Several parents visited the Delaware Water Gap School during regular teaching hours this week in Education Week observance.

Mrs. Alys Morton had as visitors Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nash, Mrs. James Anthony, Mrs. LeRoy Kaiser, Mrs. Richard Widdoss, Mrs. Edward Funk and Mrs. Lorraine Posten. Mrs. Lillian Marshall welcomed H. Nash and son Wayne, Mrs. Louis Smolak, Mrs. Richard Widdoss and Ricky and Mrs. John Wilson Jr.

Writing As A Hobby Can Enrich Your Life

By Anne Heywood

Samuel Johnson once said: "No man but a blockhead ever wrote except for money," and that is a perfect example of assuming that the way we feel about a thing is the way everybody feels.

Enriches Life

It is true that a great many people do write for money, but it is equally true that writing as a hobby, without any thought of selling the product, can enrich your life in many ways.

Keeping a diary or journal can be an extremely valuable tool towards self-knowledge, as well as a very interesting daily activity.

All-Round Success

I discussed this recently with Ariadne Thompson, who is a successful author, wife, mother and grandmother—and all at the age of 51.

Author of "Copper Beech," a new novel, Mrs. Thompson is a great believer in writing as a source of personal satisfaction, a safety valve against loneliness and frustration and a way of attaining awareness of the life around you.

Two Approaches

My own experience has been that the people who write frantically in the hope of making "a quick deal" are apt to write in vain, whereas the person who finds something extremely interesting that she wants to say, and writes for the love of writing, is apt to end up with something extremely salable.

I think this is particularly true of housewives.

Many times they were educated for a job or a profession and then have settled down to homemaking and motherhood instead. They feel a vague sense of discontent and frustration that their education has not been utilized.

If their talents are at all along the lines of writing, it is frequently very helpful to get them to set aside half an hour or even 15 minutes a day to devote to writing.

At first, it may be simply a sort of journal in which they jot down their ambitions, frustrations and reactions to life. After a time, they come to welcome this great release and look forward to the writing time.

Keeping A Diary Helps Toward Self-Knowledge

Keepers Of Journals

If worse comes to worst, that may be as far as it goes and they are merely keepers of journals. But many times these women find their enthusiasm and skill growing sufficiently to enable them to think about doing professional writing. And the next step after that is to consider taking a course of some kind in writing.

(If you would like information about an excellent correspondence course, send me a self - addressed, stamped envelope in care of this newspaper and I'll be happy to supply it.)

College Women Faculty To Have Dinner Meeting

Feeds A Family Of 13 On $50 A Week, Could You?

By Bob Renshaw
Sioux Falls Argus-Leader

Monrose, S.D. (AP)—Skyrocketing prices are punching holes in family budgets. But it's still possible to feed 13 mouths on $50 a week.

It is being done here by W. S. (Skeet) Cone who earns that amount weekly as a service station attendant and mechanic.

Glancing up from the engine he was overhauling Cone said, "I don't really know how we do it—we just do. It means we have to watch our pennies."

Comments his wife: "We don't want very much. We eat, have a roof over our heads and that's it. Everyone seems to be content with what he has. Probably if we had more money we'd get the big head and wouldn't that be the berries?"

As nine healthy, noisy neatly-dressed youngsters descend upon the five-room house when school is out, it is apparent they are happy and content.

Counting Noses

Children in school are Mary Jo, 16; Gary, 14; Sandy, 13; Clinton, 12; Kenny, 11; Jeff, 10; twins Harold and Gerald, 9; and Bradley, 7. Janie, 4, and Cindy, 3, spend days at home with their mother. Ronald, 20, joined the Navy following his graduation from high school last year.

Cone, whose education stopped with the eighth grade, is fiercely determined every one of his children is going to finish high school.

"If a person doesn't have a high school education he can't get a decent job," he says. "I want my kids to amount to something."

Cone, who learned the mechanic trade at a local garage in his home community of 430 persons, works from 7 a. m. to 9:30 p. m. six days a week, and a half day work on Sundays.

Twice in 20 years he has taken a week's vacation. Other years he has spent his week off driving gravel trucks, erecting steel grain bins or working at other jobs to supplement his income.

Pancakes Again

"When there are bills to be paid they come first before we buy a nickel's worth of groceries," says Mrs. Cone. "There are streaks when we eat a lot of pancakes, but the kids are real good about it and even say, 'Oh boy, pancakes again.'"

Help around the house isn't difficult to find. "If we are going to get company on short notice, you should see the kids pitch in and clean up," said this mother of a dozen.

Mother is the barber for all male members of the family. Sandy helps the local beauty operator in exchange for hair styling and Mary Jo and her mother take care of their own hair. Gary manages to find odd jobs and Mary Jo works as a baby sitter to help with their own spending money.

Cheaper by the Dozen

When it's time for shoes, six or seven pairs are bought at a time. Using 10 pounds of potatoes every meal, the Cones never purchase less than 100 pounds at a time. Quantity buying is less expensive, also a large garden helps hold down grocery bills.

Bread is baked at home. For 20 cents Mrs. Cone can bake six or seven batches with baker's yeast.

Even thread is bought several spools at a time to save pennies. There is use for it all because she sews for both boys and girls. Clothing isn't made from new materials—as one child outgrows something it is made over for a younger one. Mrs. Cone cuts her own pattern if she needs one.

"Someday," she said, "I would like to see what I could do with a pattern and new material."

New School Addition Is Dedicated At Open House At Middle Smithfield

The dedication of the new addition at the Middle Smithfield Elementary School highlighted the open house sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Assn. this week, with school administrators, faculty, school board, parents and students taking part.

John C. Litts, county superintendent of schools, spoke briefly, while Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools presented a talk "Our School" and Mrs. Peterson assistant supervising principal in charge of elementary education, spoke on "Our Program."

The keys to the addition, presented by the representative of Everett Associates, were accepted on behalf of the school by Raymond Hartmann, president of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint Board of Education; Theodore Regina, president of the Middle Smithfield Board of Education, and Joseph M. Kulick, principal.

In addition, papers to be placed in the cornerstone of the addition, were presented to the principal: the class lists by Robert George, president of the student government; teacher roster by Mrs. Elsie LaBar; PTA lists by presidents Richard Primrose, Middle Smithfield, and Herbert Martin, Bushkill.

Clarence McWilliams presented the guest list; Ray Steele presented the board of education roster from Lehman and Jack Miller from Middle Smithfield.

Jack Shinn presented the board authority roster; Walter Oney the joint board agreement; Paul Cortright the specifications; T. B. Courtright, the addition plans and Glenn Wallingford the building photographs.

The school chorus under the direction of Mrs. Alma Sutton sang "The American Way" as well as leading the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America the Beautiful." Rev. Wesley Crowther gave the invocation and benediction.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Decker, Mrs. Mary Beards and Mrs. Helen Huffman.

Friendly Club Prepares For Rummage Sale

At the special meeting of the Friendly Club of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Craigs Meadows, plans were completed for a rummage sale to be held next Friday and Saturday at Dunning's store room on Crystal St., in East Stroudsburg.

Anyone with articles to donate to the sale is requested to bring them to the church by Tuesday, if possible. If they wish to have them picked up they may call Mrs. Russell Wildrick, Mrs. Van D. Yetter Jr., Mrs. Hazel Lesoine or Mrs. Madeleine Fisher.

The club will meet at the church on Tuesday to prepare the clothing for the sale.

LOOKING THINGS OVER . . .

There's nothing I like better than roaming through our store in leisurely fashion, and seeing all the things I'd like to buy and place beneath someone's Christmas tree. For instance . . .

For the most sophisticated woman I know, I'd buy Spanish Carnation by Lanvin, packaged lavishly in a brilliant red plastic trimmed with gold. The big boxes of bath powder would be stunning on a dressing table, and are priced at a very reasonable 5.00. Talc is 2.00; cologne, 3.00, spray, 5.00. The bottles of cologne and perfume are encased in cardboard boxes designed with brilliant carnations. The fragrance is sultry.

For a woman not quite so sophisticated perhaps, but feminine from the top of her head to the tips of her toes, I'd select one of the Lanvin fragrances (some of which are quite sultry) in a jewel-type spray case of white-enamel with gold trim. This is a truly beautiful case, difficult to describe, and the price is 5.50. The Esprit de Parfum comes in five Faberge favorites: F#, Tigress, Woodhue, Flambeau, and Aphrodisia, each suited to a different occasion . . . a different mood.

For a woman friend who loves to accessorize basics of neutral tone with bright color, I'd select one of the Dover leather clutch bags with gilt handle regularly 2.98, now 1.98 in our handbag department. These are small, can be tucked into a suitcase when traveling and serve either as a cosmetic bag or a purse when occasion demands. My favorite color is coral, but there's also a golden yellow . . . a gray . . . and a summery pink.

For the bride, soon-to-be bride, or the woman who prefers things for her home above all else, I'd select a beautiful table cloth. Personally, I hate plastic on the table . . . and so, I vote for the inexpensive, prettily printed cottons that are so easy to launder and always so fresh looking and inviting. I notice, for the benefit of those who are buying for themselves, that we have some charming seconds for as little as 1.19 in the 52x52 inch size, and 1.98 in the 52x70 inch.

For the little girls on my gift list, I think the hand painted, quaintly dressed georgette clown dolls, priced at 79c in our center aisle, between the candy and jewelry departments, are precious—and I also think those carrot-headed dolls at 1.00 are amusing. Fact is, I'm still childish enough (or would "childlike" be more flattering?) to get a laugh out of having someone present me with one.

There are many more things that I'd like to add to my Christmas gift list . . . but guess these'll have tc do for now.

Delaware Twp. School District Audit Completed

3rd In Series

HARRISBURG — The audit made in Delaware Township School District, Pike County, by the State Auditor General has been completed and copies of the report have been sent to Gov. David Lawrence and to the school district board.

Expenditures from the General Fund for the school year ending July 6, 1958, were $44,317.94 and the state reimbursements and subsidies received during the school year ending July 5, 1959, were $4,364.14.

In the auditor's comparison of budgeted and actual expenditures it was revealed that the budget was over-expended both as to particular items and in total.

The Auditor General recommended that the district comply with the School Code when transfers of unexpended balances and additional or increased appropriations are necessary.

Also direct correspondence with the depository indicated that the bank had furnished neither bond nor collateral in lieu of bond to secure moneys on deposit by the school district. The Auditor General insists upon compliance with the School Code in providing the required coverage.

In the review of cash receipts and disbursements it was suggested by the Auditor General to use correct or improved procedures.

Suggested Procedures

The suggested procedures are responsible and accurate classification in the posting of cash journal entries. Recording of entries chronologically and inclusion of complete date and numerical reference.

The obtaining of authenticated duplicate deposit slips in order that the composition of deposits can be traced to the bank statements, and retention of worksheets used in performing reconciliation of books to bank accounts.

ELI Serfass was feted on his 81st birthday by a group of old time campers from Reading. They have camped at Saylor's Lake, Saylorsburg, each year for about 15 years. Mr. Serfass received gifts. A luncheon was served by his daughter, Mrs. Irene Lynch. The table was decorated with a cake for the occasion. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Steinmetz, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoyer, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. James Prutzman, Mrs. Irene Lynch, daughter Mary Kathryn and Eli Serfass.

Fourteen members of the Progressive Woman's Club of Saylorsburg, were guests of the Pen Argyl Woman's Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Serfass, Mr. and Mrs. William Kostenbader spent the weekend at Grand Island, N.Y., where they visited the former's son and daughter-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. David Serfass and daughter.

Man, Woman Found Dead

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A man and woman were found dead Friday in a room from which the oxygen apparently had been exhausted by a burning gas heater.

The victims were Henry Johnson, 50, and Carolyn Gumby, 45. The operator of the rooming house where the deaths occurred discovered the bodies when he was trying to trace the source of an odor.

Police said the door of the room was locked and the windows were closed tight.

Only Pius Idle On Last Full Schoolboy Saturday

ALL POCONO and Slate Belt area high schools except Pius X, will be in action this afternoon, in the last full scholastic Saturday of football in the area.

Local home games find Northampton at Stroud Union, Hellertown at Bangor and Parkland at Pen Argyl. East Stroudsburg meets Nazareth on the road. Pius has an open date.

Nazareth can wrap up the Lehigh-Northampton title with a win over the Cavaliers, who will be without their first unit quarterback Jack Fellman. Fellman, twisted his ankle in the Port Jervis game last week and it has not responded to treatment.

Two Replacements

Sophomores Jack Van Horn and Jim Steele will fill in for Fellman. Van Horn is the second unit quarterback and Steele is a converted halfback. Steele will also see duty as halfback and may spend some time at the fullback post.

Fullback Harold (Mach 2) Myers, out for a week with a cracked rib, will be able to play but will be used mainly on kickoff and punt returns.

Bangor, with two more league games, must win them both to keep its faint title hopes alive. Hellertown also has a shot at the title, providing Nazareth is knocked off. The game is rated a toss-up.

Warrick Out

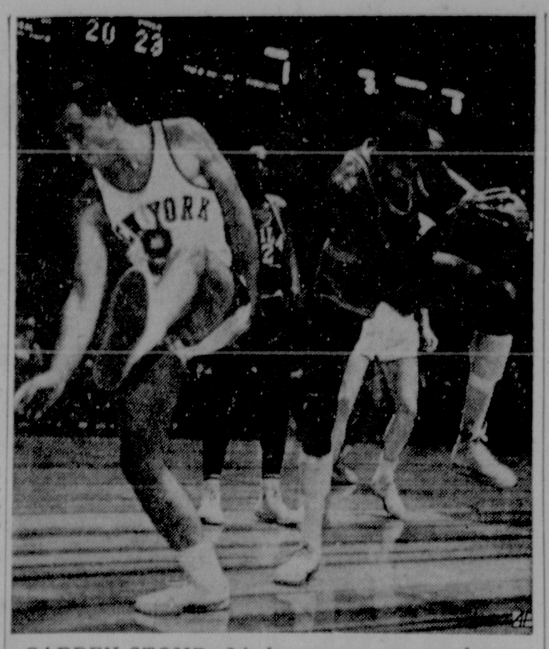

The Slaters will be without end Barry Warrick, who broke two ribs against Palmerton last week. But linebacker Earl Van Doren, who has been out for six weeks with a knee injury will be back in uniform.

Stroud Union will be starting the same team two weeks in a row, for the first time this season. Northampton has not lost to the Mounties in so long that no one is quite sure when it last happened. The Konkrete Kids have a 5-2 mark and are on top of the Lehigh Valley League.

One of the best ball handling teams in the state, Northampton is noted for carrying out fakes so well, that the officials blow the play dead, while the ball carrier is no where near the spot.

The kids run from a short punt formation, with Will Oplinger, a better than average passer and runner in the deep spot.

Pen Argyl is on a three game losing string but is heavily favored to beat Parkland. Pen Argyl has been out of title contention for several weeks but could finish with a winning season by taking its last two games. The Knights meet Bangor in the Thanksgiving Day finale.

GARDEN STOMP—It's lose your partner and away we go at New York's Madison Square Garden as Richie Guerin of the New York Knicks and Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors finish battle for ball. Wilt had just grabbed the ball in NBA game won by the Warriors, 116-112.

Mineral Water Bowl To Select Colleges Tonight

By Curt Prins
Daily Record
Sports Editor

SELECTION of teams for the Mineral Water Bowl at Excelsier Springs, Mo., will be made at 7 p.m. tonight, officials of the post season game told the Daily Record Friday.

"We will wait until the final game results of all the teams we are considering are in," said Bill Taylor, co-chairman of the selection committee."

East Stroudsburg State College, which closes its season at Indiana State this afternoon, is still being strongly considered said Taylor. He added that a loss to Indaina would eliminate East Stroudsburg from further consideration.

List Narrowed

"We have narrowed our preferred list to seven teams," Taylor added, "and East Stroudsburg is among the seven."

He also said that several of the teams being considered have better records than East Stroudsburg but East Stroudsburg is the only team that is listed in four categories of statistical leaders by the National Intercollegiate Athletic Assn.

The selection of the two teams was originally planned for later in the week but the committee decided to select the teams earlier to increase ticket sales.

Parade Has Truman

The bowl games is an afternoon affair, Nov 26. A parade headed by former President Harry Truman will precede the game.

There is an outside that today's game at Indiana could be cancelled.

If the weather grounds East Stroudsburg at Allentown - Bethlehem - Easton Airport, the game will have to be called off. The weather report calls for cloudy skies today but no rain. If the report holds up, it would not be enough to cancel the flight.

Indiana (2-4-2) could salvage a great deal of prestige for itself by knocking off the Warriors today. Indiana has been the doormat of the Western Division of the State College Conference but has had a chance to win every game it has been in.

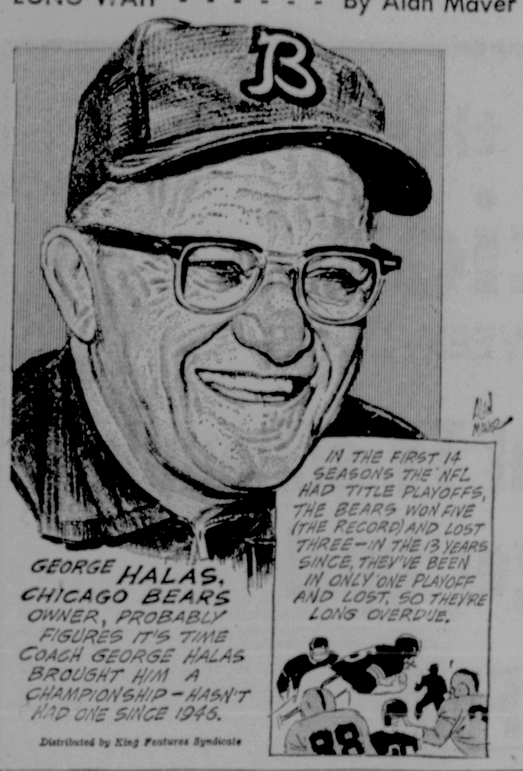

Scared Lock Haven

It lost by a lone touchdown to Lock Haven the Western Division champ and defeated Westminster, the defending West-Penn titlist.

Indiana has a good passing attack and its quarterback Gene Davis, a three-year letterman, can throw the home run ball.

A win for East Stroudsburg would also tie the school record for the most wins in one season. The Warriors are 6-2. The 1940 and '42 teams each had seven wins.

Mountain Top Games

High School Team Went 60 Years Without A Victory

By ROBERT L. MOORE
(AP Sports Writer)

CENTRAL CITY, Colo. (AP) — It took a long time, 60 years to be exact, but the Central High School Eagles finally won a football game.

The end of Central City's search for a gridiron triumph came Sept. 23. The Eagles, an eight-man team, defeated Strasburg, Colo., 13-7.

Central City plays its home games in a dry lake on top of a nearby mountain. The squad has only 11 players. One of them is halfback Jerry Powers, who weighs only 97 pounds and stands five-feet-two.

50 Year Layoff

For 50 years, Central City had no football team. The Eagles resumed the sport in 1957. They lost game after game.

Then came the current season. Central City and Strasburg went up on the mountain top.

Central City got the touchdown it had searched for these many years — the winning touchdown — in the third quarter, and the extra point to boot.

And guess who made all of Central City's points? Powers, the mighty mite. He scored on runs of 30 and 10 yards and made the extra point.

"We started the season with 15 boys, all there are in school," says Coach Dan McKeezy. "Three of them got hurt. We've been known as the shoeless wonders because we haven't been able to play in cleated shoes. But we've got them shoes for this season, and now all our boys are fully equipped."

Bald Eagle Wins International Test

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Bald Eagle led all the way and won the Washington D. C. International Friday for a record second straight time in another mixed up global horse race that saw a Russian rider try to claim foul and a top French colt toss his jockey right at the start.

This was the ninth running of the gallop for $100,000 on the infield grass course at Laurel Park.

Reds Trail

Bald Eagle flashed home two lengths ahead of the Sag-J. E. Stable's Hamonizing, second United States horse in the field of 11 from six nations.

The Soviet entry of Zabeg and Zadorny came home third and fourth and it was near the finish that the Russians claimed they encountered dirty work at the crossroads. The jockey on Zabeg said Harmonizing bothered his mount, but the stewards failed to notice his attempt to claim foul when he unsaddled.

Zabeg, ridden by Nikolai Nasibov, closed well to finish a length behind Harmonizing, ridden by the Irish jockey, Johnny Ruane.

Zadorny was fourth a length and a quarter behind his stablemate.

As for the French Colt, Puissant Chef, he tossed his jockey, Maxime Garcia, right at the start and Garcia complained bitterly his horse had wheeled sharply when the starting web flew up. Garcia was thrown, but remounted, only to finish far back in a mere gallop.

Ycaza Wins

Manual Ycaza, the Panamanian pepper-pot jockey, was aboard Bald Eagle in the No. 2 starting spot, alongside of Puissant Chef. Bald Eagle shot to the front at once, opening up plenty of daylight and although he tired near the finish, was able to stave off the closing run of Harmonizing and the Soviet pair.

Bald Eagle, who ran the mile and a half turf course in 2 minutes, 33 seconds — five seconds slower than his winning time a year ago, paid $5.40, $3.80 and $2.80.

Johnson Leads Mexican Open

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Howie Johnson of Houston, Tex., firing seven birdies and an eagle, shot a course record 63 Friday and took the halfway lead in the $10,000 Mexican Open golf tournament with a 36-hole total of 133.

Unheralded Bob Stone of Junction City, Kan., moved up to second with a 68 for 137 as the opening round coleaders, Billy Maxwell of Oceanside, Calif., and Canada's Al Balding, slipped back.

Maxwell had a par 72 and shared third place at 138 with Dave Marr of Houston, Tex., who had a 70. Balding shot a 73 and had a two-day total of 139.

Champion Horse To Be Retired

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The Australian champion racehorse Tulloch, who is to be retired to stud next year, will stand at a fee of $1,176.

This is the highest service charge here for a sire bred in New Zealand or Australia in his first season.

Tulloch, bred in New Zealand, earned $193,000 racing.

Five Possible Conference Titles At Stake Today

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ONE conference title and perhaps a share in four others are at stake Saturday as the 1960 college football season hits the "them that has, gets" stage.

Minnesota, the nation's No. 1 team in the latest Associated Press poll, probably has more of everything than anyone ever imagined and could use it to clinch at least a tie for its first Big Ten title in two decades. A victory over Purdue (2-4-1) would give the resurgent Golden Gophers (7-0) a share of the title. This, coupled with a win over Wisconsin next week, means the title and the possibility of a Rose Bowl bid.

The other half of that Rose Bowl duo should be Washington (No. 6). The Huskies (7-1) can wrap up their second straight Big Five title by beating California (1-1-1).

Bowl Bid

Second-ranked Missouri (8-0) is almost assured of returning to the Orange Bowl, but is eyeing the Big Eight title even more. The Tigers, playing defending champion Oklahoma (2-4-1), can gain at least a tie for the title with a victory and if second-place Kansas loses to Colorado. Should both be victorious, then the title is decided when they meet next Saturday. Missouri hasn't beaten Oklahoma, however, since 1945.

Also eyeing that Big Ten race is third-ranked Ohio State and fifth-ranked Iowa, both 6-1. They meet in a game that will be nationally televised (2:30 p.m. EST, ABC-TV). The victor here would snatch the title or a share of it if Minnesota falters in its remaining games.

Dogfight Game

Mississippi (No. 4) finds itself in a dogfight to hang onto the lead in the Southeastern Conference. Ole Miss is 7-0-1 over-all and 3-0-1 in the conference. But one misstep means disaster with 10th-ranked Auburn and Florida tied for second with 4-1 records.

Mississippi meets Tennessee (5-1-1), while Auburn takes on Georgia (5-3), the defending SEC champ. Florida plays Tulane. Ole Miss and Auburn each have a conference game remaining but Florida winds up SEC play Saturday.

One Slip Out

Duke, upset winner of previously unbeaten Navy a week ago, can gain a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference title by beating Wake Forest (2-5). The seventh-ranked Blue Devils (6-1) should wrap it up against North Carolina next week.

Arkansas (No. 9) also finds itself embroiled in a furious Southwest Conference race. One slip and the Razorbacks are just about dead. They face winless Southern Methodist (0-6-1). Arkansas is 4-1 in the SWC while second-place Rice is 3-1. Rice meets Texas A&M (1-4-3).

Navy, ranked eighth, seeks to extend the nation's longest losing string, Virginia's 24 in a row since 1957, when the two meet at the Naval Academy. It is the Middies last game before their traditional affair against Army, which also is idle after Saturday's game against Pitt.

Things are humming in the Ivy League where Yale, 7-0 over-all, and matching Princeton's 5-0 league mark, play the Tigers for what will undoubtedly be the title. Both are favored in windup games next week.

Virginia Military, 3-0 in the Southern Conference, plays The Citadel, 4-1 in second place. VMI may have to wait until it meets Virginia Tech next week to clinch matters.

New Mexico State (7-0) plays West Texas State in a Border Conference game while Utah State (8-0) is out of the Skyline Conference against College of the Pacific.

Warrior Booters Edged

ELIZABETHTOWN — Unbeaten Elizabethtown College edged East Stroudsburg State College's soccer team 2-1 Friday on a fourth period goal by Al Hershey.

Elizabethtown went into the game, averaging eight goals a game but could break through the Warrior defense in only the first and fourth frames.

East Stroudsburg's Ernie Howe collected the lone Warrior goal, at 10 minutes of the second period, to tie the game.

Final Game

It was the final game for coach John Eiler's Warriors, who closed the season with a 5-4-1 mark.

Elizabethtown, rated one of the top teams in the country, jumped to a 1-0 lead early in the first period, when center forward Bob Yurchak whipped in a goal.

Howe's boot in the second period knotted the county by Hershey sent Elizabethtown ahead for good soon after the final frame opened.

The winners managed 36 shots, while East Stroudsburg attempted 14.

Boston Raps Titans

BOSTON (AP)—Butch Songin threw three touchdown passes and guided Boston on four long scoring drives Friday night as the Patriots outscored New York 38-21 in a rough American Football League game.

The 34-year-old veteran of the sandlots and Canadian ranks tossed scoring strikes of 30 and 9 yards to Jim Colclough and another of 48 to Al Miller. And he was at the helm as the Patriots put together touchdown drives of 66, 65, 55 and 91 yards.

The victory enabled the Patriots to climb over the Titans, who have lost four straight, and into second place in the Eastern Division. Boston, now 4-5 for the season, has little hope of catching Eastern leader Houston, 6-2, however.

Hockey Scorer Changes Mind

NEW YORK (AP)—The official scorer of Wednesday night's Detroit-New York National Hockey League game changed his mind Thursday and gave Norm Ullman an assist. That enabled the Red Wings' center to maintain his consecutive game scoring streak.

Ullman has had a goal or an assist in each of the Wings' 14 games, a club record.

Detroit won the game 4-3.

DVL Teams On Road

TWIN CITY TV is at Nazareth Speedway, Easton and Crowe's goes to Sullivan Heating, Easton, in the Delaware Valley Bowling League tonight.

Twin City will use Ken Fetherman, Walt Keiper, Steve Balcik, Pete Casella and Okay Stuckey.

Jake Nittel, John Javitt, Ted Hoffman, Tom Sommers and Russ Bergman will bowl for Crowe's.

Twin City is in fourth place in the 12-team league and Crowe's is in seventh place.

Calhoun Enters Paying Ranks

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Lee Calhoun, two-time Olympic high hurdles champion, retired to professional ranks Friday as sports director for Gary's parks and playgrounds.

Mayor George Chacharis announced his appointment of Calhoun as he presented the hurdler with a $3,000 gift from Gary citizens, to be applied as a down payment on a home.

Gun Club Dance

THE DUTCH HILL Gun Club will hold a dinner-dance tonight at 7:30 at Lynn's Valley View Hotel, Bushkill.

Pitt Needs Army Win For Bowl

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A high rating in the eastern domain of college football will be at stake here Saturday in the battle between Pitt and Army — the two teams that toppled mighty Syracuse.

The favored Panthers need a victory over the Cadets to remain in contention for a post-season bowl bid.

Army, however, will be out to act as a deterrent force. That's what the Panthers were two years ago when the Cadets, arrived here with an unblemished record. When they departed, they had a 14-14 deadlock.

Six Wins

The Cadets will go into Saturday's skirmish with six victories in eight games. They lost to Penn State and Nebraska.

The Panthers also have two losses in eight games, to UCLA and Oklahoma. But two other games—Michigan State and Texas Christian—ended in ties.

Saturday's opponents at Pitt Stadium rocked Syracuse on consecutive weekends. Pitt did it 10-0 while Army had a tougher time 9-6.

The Panthers will throw a "two platoon" quarterback attack at the invaders along with the running of the "C-boys," halfbacks Fred Cox and Bob Clemens and fullback Jim Cunningham, and the crashing defensive end play of Mike Ditka.

Two Quarterbacks

Coach Johnny Michelosen has quarterback Jim Traficant to do the passing and quarterback Ed Sharockman for the running.

Army will be quarterbacked by Tom Blanda, a product of a Western Pennsylvania high school. Blanda has completed 55 per cent of his passes. Sparking the running attack has been Al Rushatz, who has gained more ground than Army's other two running backs combined.

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN By Eddie Meier

CARP FILLETS BROILED WITH DILL & ONIONS

Ponder this! If you selected your fish because of the calories which each species provides, carp would rate higher on your list than the fine flavored perch or the delicate trout! Investigations in Wisconsin have disclosed carp provide 496 calories per pound whereas perch supply 402 and trout only 365!

You will need no such inducement when broiled carp fillets with dill and onions are set before you. One sample will convince the taste buds that here is a dish well worth a "repeat frequently" rating on your list of menus!

Dip the carp fillets in a lemon juice, then drain and place on broiler pan. Brush with melted butter, season with salt and pepper, and sprinkle lightly with freshly chopped dill and minced onion. With the fish two inches from flame, broil 12 minutes. Turn, season and sprinkle with dill and onions as before, and broil 15 minutes, or until fillets flake readily when tested with fork.

U. S. Loses In Volleyball Play

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —The winless United States' men's team lost its second match in the world volleyball championship, bowing to Rumania 3-1 Sunday night.

The Rumanians won 9-15, 15-6, 15-5, 15-6 and went into a three-way tie for first with Czechoslovakia and Russia in the 10-nation field. All three have 3-0 records.

Kick, Throw Boy Out Window

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Five youths set upon a 15-year-old boy in a bowling alley Thursday night, beat and kicked him, then pitched him through a plate glass window onto the sidewalk.

Police said the boy, James Devine, was attacked because he refused to hand over a nickel to one of the five.

Police arrested James Dubbin, 22, a city employe. They said the boy identified him as one of the assailants. Dubbin was charged with aggravated assault and battery and held on $300 bail for further hearing.

The boy is in Germantown Hospital suffering from kidney injuries and cuts on many parts of his body.

Moyer Seeks 5th Straight

NEW YORK (AP)—Phil Moyer, the middleweight of the fighting Moyer family of Portland, Ore., aims for his fifth straight victory Saturday night in a television 10-rounder with Cuba's Florentino Fernandez at Madison Square Garden.

Despite his four consecutive wins—all this year—Moyer was rated an 8-5 underdog to the stiff-punching Cuban.

Fernandez has a record of 21 knockouts in 29 fights.

Moyer, 24, has a record of 21-3-1.

The bout starts at 10 p.m., EST, and will be telecast (ABC-TV) coast to coast.

Strongman Anderson Makes Physical Fitness Pitch

By Ross M. Hagen
AP Sports Writer

TOCCOA, Ga. (AP)—"America is going to have to set up some kind of a national physical fitness program and I would like to have a hand in it," says Paul Anderson, strongest man in the world.

Anderson thinks the amateur athletic system should be modified so that an athlete could pursue his sport even though it doesn't have widespread public following.

"Some very fine athletes are developed in colleges," says Anderson, "but they compete in major sports. Minor sports are less popular with college officials because they do not attract the public interest."

Little Attention

Colleges pay little atention to such sports as gymnastics, weight lifting and fencing, he says.

The 27-year-old 5-foot-10 Toccoa strongman — he's lifted more than three tons on his back — works out every day to keep in shape. "I concentrate mostly on power exercises not used in competition," he says. "I life as much as 4,000 pounds during these workouts."

Anderson recently turned to professional boxing after a whirl on the professional wrestling circuit. As a pro grapler, Anderson was unbeaten.

Tired Easily

"I still wrestle occasionally, but I want to branch out now and promote youth activities," he says. "After all, the future of our nation rests with out young people."

Paul Anderson
Fighting at 300 Pounds

He was less than impressive in his boxing debut against Ortillo Tondo in Charlotte, N. C. After three rounds, Anderson couldn't raise a pair of eight-ounce gloves with a pair of arms which set a world weightlifting record in 1955.

Anderson blamed it on his trainer who had the Georgia strongman cut his weight to 275 pounds, 30 or 40 pounds under his normal weight.

"Now I'm back up to over 300 pounds and my endurance is up. I feel good and I work better," he says. "I intend to pursue my boxing career and feel I have a good chance of making it to the top."

Olympic Sensation

Anderson was a sensational in the 1955 Olympics. Despite a 104-degree fever from a throat infection he hoisted 1,102 pounds in three events and won an Olympic gold medal. Earlier he established a world's record in the three-events of 1,129½ pounds. His mark was shattered this year by the Russian weightlifter, Yuri Vlasov, who lifted 1,184¼ pounds.

"I have lifted more than 2,000 pounds in comparable events since turning pro," he says. "I don't believe beating the Russian would be much of a chore."

Anderson lives with his 101-pound wife on a 186-acre farm near Toccoa in the North Georgia mountains.

"I'm converting my place into a boys camp," he says. "I am building a lake and barracks and expect to have the place in operation next spring. Meantime I'll continue my boxing career and stage weight lifting exhibitions. My camp will be designed for use as a high school footbaal training camp in the fall."

Vanderbilt Seeks Fourth Win In Row

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY (Nashville, Tenn.) will seek its fourth consecutive victory when it defends its "G-E College Bowl" championship against the University of Mississippi (University, Miss.) tomorrow (5:30-6:00 p.m.) in the intercollegiate battle of brains on the CBS Television Network.

Last Sunday the Vanderbilt squad downed the University of Arkansas by a score of 205 to 155, thereby boosting to $4,500 the amount awarded to its student scholarship fund by the sponsor of the program, the General Electric Company. The Arkansas school was awarded a $500 grant.

Representing Vanderbilt in the forthcoming contest will be John Wilson, Marietta, Ga.; Charles Ryan, Jr., Manchester, Conn.; and Rollin Lasseter and Robert Andrews, both of Nashville, Tenn.

The all-Mississippi squad will consist of David Hicks, Magee; Charles Matthews, Oxford; and Susan Morehead and Richard Wilson, both of Jackson.

Price Right For More Men

WHO ARE THE better bargain hunters, men or women?

According to the resuults on "The Price Is Right" Wednesday nighttime colorcast series (NBC-TV Network, 8:30 p.m.), the men have a slight edge when it comes to knowing the value of merchandise.

Each week on the show, two men and two women compete for valuable prizes — among them boats, furs, jewelry, cars and even houses — by trying to estimate their exact prices. The panelist winning the most each week becomes the champion and returns the following Wednesday.

Since the first of the year, 14 men have become champions while only 13 women have had that honor.

And, these men won prizes valued at $299,832 compared to $253,756 in merchandise won by the women champions.

Midget Football To Be Featured

MOOCHIE'S MIDGET football team reaches the championship play-off by overcoming opposition — both parental and athletic — but he has a personal score to make in American history before he can join his team in the big game in "From Ticonderoga to Disneyland," the second and concluding episode in the two-part "Moochie of Pop Warner Football" on "Walt Disney Presents" (ABC-TV, 6:30-7:30 p.m.).

Buckeyes Meet Iowa Today In Televised Game

TWO OF THE country's leading college football teams, University of Iowa and Ohio State, clash at Iowa Stadium, Iowa City, in the N.C.A.A. game of the week to be nationally televised today over ABC-TV at 2:15 p.m.

Curt Gowdy is the play-by-play commentator, Paul Christman the color commentator and Bob Neal the field reporter.

Both teams have identical records with six wins and one loss. In the Big Ten Conference title race Iowa is four to one and Ohio State three and one. Conference leader is Minnesota.

In 22 contests between them on the gridiron, Ohio State has won 12 and Iowa eight, with two contests ending in ties. Last year Iowa won 16-7.

Esther Williams In Western Role

ESTHER WILLIAMS stars in the first Western role of her career in "The Black Wagon," on "Dick Powell's Zane Grey Theatre" Thursday, Dec. 1 (8:30-9:00 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network.

Miss Williams, as Sarah Harmon, an Eastern girl traveling through the West, is with a wagon train which comes upon the remains of an Apache massacre. Standing alone amid the carnage is an ominous black, barred hospital wagon — believed to be carrying four cholera patients — which even the Indians were afraid to touch.

School Districts Assess Child's Mental Maturity

(A number of articles have been written for us in connection with the observance of American Education Week in the Stroud Union School District. The following article, was written by H. Eloise Bryan, school and clinical psychologist).

MARCIA WINN, in an article dated October 14, 1960, quotes Parent's Magazine as follows: "Twenty-three percent of America's children annually are not ready and consequently fail in the first grade." The article gives parents cues as to whether or not their children are ready to enter school. Some things seem highly significant in terms of the program practiced in "Stroud Union School District" and "Bangor Joint Area School District."

1. "Can I leave him with a strange adult without a struggle?"

2. "How well does he play with the neighborhood children? Is he overly shy? Overly aggressive? Does he let others play with his toys?"

3. "Am I sure he has not entrenched habits of nail biting, bed wetting, twitching, stuttering, thumb-sucking, chattering?"

4. "Do I realize that I, as a parent, resent my child's shifting his loyalty from home to school?"

These are considerations which the local districts have tried to consider in assessing individual children for enrollment in kindergarten, as well as the child's mental maturity. The program has been arduous and, sometimes, frustrating, but results now show the wisdom of prevention. We hope that Stroud Union and Bangor will never approximate the percentage of first grade failures—as stated above.

Careful Screening

The need for a more careful screening of beginners has been evident for many years, but nothing much was done about it. The Pennsylvania State Law is presently written on the basis of "Chronological Age" — applying specifically to children whose birthdays fall on or before February first. Therefore, in the past, there has been no discrimination other than "life age." However, any kindergarten or first grade teacher will tell you that many children have been enrolled who required "Nursery School" level of work. It is probably these immature children who make up the national statistics accounting for the "twenty-three per cent of first grade failures."

After our own experimental program in Stroud Union and Bangor, where do we presently stand in regard to the maturity of our beginners? "By their fruits ye shall know them!"

As of September 1960, first grade teachers report children much more ready to do required work. This sustains interest; avoids frustrations; cuts down failures; gives teachers a sense of success, which is morale building.

The same opinion holds true for the kindergarten groups. Tone of classrooms is less tense; habits are more readily acquired; group living is spontaneous and purposeful; time is devoted to a maximum of the children, without "bleeding" the teacher's energies to care for "mis-fits."

Minimum of Failure

There is a minimum of failure because children are "deferred" before attempting to enter. It seems cruel to permit an immature child to tackle something for which he is not equipped, and then place blame upon him because he cannot "keep up."

We have often been through stormy weather with certain parents. I have no doubt that some who may read this article will be in disagreement with its contents. But, by and large, great progress has been made in the communities. After a fair conference, most parents are willing to be steered in this most important decision. Some philosopher once said — "The closest thing to the heart of a parent is the welfare of his own child." It is our responsibility as school people, to have a voice in what is truly and permanently contributing toward the welfare of children.

We are grateful for the fine cooperation and understanding of school officials, teachers and, most importantly, our fine parents. With this kind of unity, the years ahead should eradicate many of the failures which are a blotch on our educational record.

Teen-Agers Apologize

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP)—Five teen-age boys made a public apology Friday for burning crosses near the homes of Swarthmore Negroes Oct. 29. Police at the time had described the acts as probable halloween pranks.

The boys, four aged 16 and one 17, released a statement through their pastors asserting they "did not realize the seriousness of the implications" and that the incidents were "not pre-conceived as a way to exclude anyone from our community..."

Two Slated For Induction

CLAUDE M. Schaller, East Stroudsburg, and James M. Moyer, Stroudsburg, have been ordered to report for induction into the armed forces next Thursday by Selective Service Board 105.

Schwartz Head Of Scout Drives

HARRY J. Schwartz of Phillipsburg was appointed chairman for the Delaware Valley Area Council's campaigns in 1961 by Carl W. Veit, president, at a recent meeting of the Council Executive Board at Lanark Hotel.

Schwartz, whose aid brought the council's 1956 capital fund campaign to a total receipt of $163,000 will head up a Steering Committee composed of members of the board. Campaign will be conducted in Blue Mountain and Warren Districts with the general solicitation scheduled for the last two weeks of February. One phase of the campaign will be an inititation of appeals for larger gifts in December so that these givers might give in December or after the first of the year, thus taking full advantage of tax benefits.

Schwartz announced additional gifts of $2600 in the Capital Campaign and $100 in payments on pledges.

William Wyckoff of Stroudsburg pointed out that the council membership is at an all time high of 3877 boys and indicated that an analysis of membership projects a year end total between 4040 and 4100. John Schwarz, roundup chairman, reported that 22 percent of the Roundup goal of 1000 new boys had been reached with November and December expected to produce greater results.

New Change

Camp Committe report was that camp fees for 1961 will be unchanged.

Karl J. Miller announced that the Council Annual Meeting and election of officers will be held December 7 at Ross Common Manor. The program will consist of a series of brief reports on the Jubilee year of Scouting.

Milton Lippincott announced that the Annual Recognition Dinner will be held January 14 at Hotel Easton. He stated that the three units have earned the President Eisenhower Award in the Jubilee Recognition Program and 266 boys have been individually recognized.

President Veit reminded the Board that District Executive Joseph Miller had started his new assignment in Wilkinsburg November 1. His replacement, Richard T. Wentz, is currently being schooled at Schiff Scout Reservation and will report on December 9.

Dr. Robert Dreher of Blue Mountain District received the Lorillard - Spencer cup for achievement in membership for the second consecutive month.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SAT., NOV. 12, 1960

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Being thoughtful and considerate today will give bright returns, even where not expected. Go ahead with plans. Cooperate with family, associates where you should.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Make it an especially lucky day. Put aside some personal desires and throw the weight of your talents and capability to tasks for aid of many. Complete as many projects as reasonable.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Advantageous period for your special talent and mental agility. May be good to work with others for whole plan but don't forsake principles of individual.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — Repel wrong aggression, stand firmly by honorable ideals, procedures. Keeping records straight one does not have to fear inspection or disclosures. Good rays.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Be worthy of your better self, have faith in your own assets and ability. Go forward resolutely, with progressive, good ideas. Work so you can gain and pass on benefits to others.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) —Need not move at too excessive a clip but you must plan and think as smartly as some competitors. Recognize, appreciate those who keep their word and do not daily harmfully.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) —Help keep all wise standards and thinking intact. Improve items where you can but don't neglect proven rules, methods and materials "just for a change."

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Relax tension without approving delay in urgent matters. You are a keen judge when you don't permit emotion to rule. Allocate schedule in right proportion to need of returns.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Don't divide energy in too varied directions. Concentrate sufficiently on requirements and issues calling for immediate attention. Personality and persuasion real helpmates.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Keep right things going in the right places. You will be agreeably surprised at results. Honest, intelligent effort never fails; have faith, keep trying, and smiling.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Practical single endeavor, also sound organization efforts can be effective, advantageous. Head wise advice, follow your conscience, knowledge gained from experience.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) —Go after big achievement, or, at least lay groundwork for it. New methods, discoveries of value honored. Science, research, medicine, all just study can achieve.

YOU BORN TODAY: Scorpio, speedy of thought and action, willing to assist another in a trying moment without regard for strenuous endeavor or hazards. A Sign of activity, mental and physical, so protect your remarkable strength with sufficient sleep, proper foods, avoidance of overactivity. Don't say "yes" to too many requests demanding overmuch from your resources. Excellent period now for renewing ventures you had to forego, revising methods, furthering education, developing a fresh hobby, at which you excel. You have the grit and vision for long range interests. Don't get bogged down with details, trifles, others' demands. Birthdate of: Joseph Hopkinson, author, (1798) "Hail, Columbia."

He is married to the former Helen Ryczak. The couple have a daughter Susan.

OBITUARIES

Bushkill Infant

CLARENCE Robert Garris, three months old, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Garris, Bushkill, died yesterday at 8 a.m. in the Monroe County General Hospital.

In addition to his parents he is survived by three brothers, Charles I. Garris Jr., William H. Garris and Richard P. Garris, all at home; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ace, Bushkill; and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Garris, also of Bushkill.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Lanterman Funeral Home with Rev. Harold C. Eaton officiating.

Interment will be in the Sand Hill Cemetery, Bushkill.

Friends and relatives may call at the funeral home Saturday after 7 p.m.

Board Approves Integration

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The New Orleans School Board, climaxing a dramatic day of federal-state maneuvering, last night approved integration of five Negro first grade girls into two of the city's segregated schools.

The five-member board voted 4-0 in favor of the move. It acted only a few hours after U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright issued a temporary restraining order handcuffing a state legislative committee which had seized control of the 95,000-pupil school system. One board member was absent.

Pocono Art Members To See Films

Two films on art will be presented to the members of the Pocono Art Center, and the interested public, at the Center Gallery on Tuesday night, Nov. 15, at 8 o'clock, when the group holds its regular meeting.

This has been arranged through the cooperation of the Art Department of East Stroudsburg State College. George B. Johnson, assistan professor of art, and known locally through exhibitions of his painting and sculpture, will handle the film and the discussion. There will be no charge.

One film is on "Making a Mural," with Thomas Hart Benton; and the other is "Seven Points of Good Design." The Art Center urges young people from the schools to take advantage of this opportunity.

At the same time, the current exhibition of paintings by William H. Johnson may be seen, as also on Wednesday evenings, when the Painters' Workshop meets, and daily in the afternoons. The Pocono Art Center Gallery is located above the Penny Store, Stroudsburg.

Irregularities Sought By GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee said yesterday Chairman Thruston B. Morton has asked state and county party chairmen to look into allegations of voting irregularities in several states.

A committee spokesman said many complaints alleging fraud, payment of money, and other irregularities had been received by the committee.

He said these complaints had come mostly from Texas, the Carolinas, Illinois, Michigan, and New Jersey.

The spokesman said Morton had asked state and county chairmen to make a full investigation, determine the facts, and advise him and the Justice Department if they found a substantial basis for the complaints.

Aged Ex-Judge Dies

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—J. Norman Martin, a former Lawrence County judge, died here yesterday at the age of 101.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Well, George, I see your wife got her driver's license."

Record Crop Production Is Assured

WASHINGTON (AP) — Favorable fall weather has assured the nation of a record production of crops this year.

Reporting this in its semi-final crop report of the year, the Agriculture Department said conditions in October allowed the late-growing crops to reach full maturity to bring total production to a new high level.

The production volume was estimated at 122 percent of the 1947-49 average compared with the previous record of 118 percent set in 1938 and met in 1959.

The production pattern was well-rounded with plentiful supplies of food and livestock feed grains, oil seeds, sugar crops, fruits and vegetables, fiber crops and tobacco. The output will add to surpluses, particularly of grains.

Red Rice In Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—A cargo of 60,000 bags of rice from Communist China has been unloaded in Santiago, the semiofficial paper Revolucion reported Friday. The paper said 30,000 bags each of onions and potatos and "huge quantities" of black beans also arrived, but did not indicate their origin.

The imports are intended to ease reported drastic shortages of foodstuffs all over Cuba.

Dear Abby

Small Town Freedom

Dear Abby: Our pastor's wife died a few months ago and the whole town is running after him to help him replace her. He's in his early fifties and seems interested in a pretty little school teacher who is 33. She has never been married and would make him a good wife. The problem is she has an older sister who has never been married, either. She is 38 and gives piano lessons. The 38'er wants this pastor very much, but I think the pastor prefers the 33'er. I'm sure the 33'er would grab the pastor fast if her sister weren't in the running. The town is divided. Who should get him? Some say the 38'er, as it may be her last chance. We'd like your opinion.

FRIENDS OF BOTH

Dear Friends: The town should stay out of it. The pastor should court whom he wishes. And the sisters should wait to see which (if either) he selects.

* * *

Dear Abby: I went steady with Russell for three months. He's a wonderful guy but he was tagged for speeding 'wice and was cited for three other traffic violations in the past six weeks. He had his license taken away from him but he drives anyway. My Dad found out about it and made me break up with him. I don't think this was fair. Wouldn't it be punishment enough to forbid me to ride with him? I am 16 and Russ is 17.

RUSS' GIRL

Dear Girl: I agree with your dad. How "wonderful could a guy be who continually breaks the law, has his license revoked but drives anyway? He's bad news. Stay away from him.

Dear Abby: I am a size 12. My sister should be a size 12, too, but she is a size 14. She is always "going on a diet tomorrow." Last January she admired a dress of mine, so I gave it to her hoping it would be an incentive to stick to her diet. She seemed delighted with the idea, accepted the dress and promised she'd stick to her diet this time.

Well, she's had the dress for nine months, and instead of losing weight, she gained. The dress has been hanging in her closet and I would like to wear it this winter. How can I get it back without hurting her feelings?

SIZE 12

Dear Size 12: Ask her if she would mind letting you wear the dress until she is able to wear it.

Pocono Forestry Group Cite Late Conservationist

AT A RECENT meeting of the officers and directors of the Pocono Forestry Association, the group unanimously approved the proposal to designate future awards donated by the association to winners of the Monroe Science Fair be designated as the Professor John H. Kunkle awards.

Prof. Kunkle who served for many years as county superintendent of schools and who was president of the Pocono Forestry Association at the time of his death was an ardent Conservationist.

Vigorous Program

In other business matters, the group voted to undertake a vigorous program to stimulate tree planting in the Poconos in the spring of 1961.

The tree planter owned by the association is available for use by anyone interested in planting trees, it was announced.

Being Accepted

Applications for reservations to use the planter during the spring of 1961 are being accepted now.

For further information concerning the use of the planter or information concerning tree seedling for planting next spring, persons are urged to visit the District Foresters' Office, 1081 W. Main St., Stroudsburg.

Demonstration Broken Up

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—Club-swinging security police broke up a rightist demonstration at the Algiers War Monument last night in what could be a preview of worse disturbances Friday.

Several persons were injured when police charged a group of about 1,000 persons who gathered to jeer government officials beginning the World War I armistice anniversary observances.

The crowd shouted "Algerie Francaise" —French Algeria—rallying cry of the rightists, as a group of military commanders arrived to lay a floral wreath at the monument.

The main Armistice Day ceremonies will take place Friday. Opponents of President Charles de Gaulle are expected to try turning traditional holiday observances into antigovernment demonstrations.

Seven Gunned To Death

PARIS (AP) — Seven persons were machine-gunned to death in a suburban cafe last night in an attack by three Algerian terroriss.

Two terrorists sprayed the interior of the cafe with gunfire while the third stood by with a hand grenade threatening to throw it if anyone tried to escape.

All victims were Algerians. Police said it appeared to be a raid on a group of supporters of the National Liberation front — FLN — by members of the rival Algerian National Movement — MNA.

The FLN and MNA are the principal political organizations behind the Algerian rebellion. They are bitter rivals and frequently battle in similar fashion.

New License Applications

HARRISBURG (AP) — Applications for the new two-year driver's licenses are being mailed out this week, the Revenue Department said yesterday.

The new licenses will cost $4, instead of the $2 for the present annual license. The biennial mailings will save the state some $500,000 in handling costs, said Revenue Secretary Charles M. Daugherty.

The 5,018,104 applications are being mailed earlier than previously because some 200,000 of them contain letters from the Bureau of Traffic Safety directing recipients to take examinations under the new physical fitness requirement.

The mandatory tests include an eye examination at any state police barracks and separate examination by the driver's personal physicians.

The 1961-62 licenses become effective Feb. 1.

Novarro Recovered

LONDON (AP) — Movie actor Ramon Novarro left a hospital bed Friday, well and rested from a touch of pneumonia, and literally loaded with fan mail and gifts.

"At the age of 61," he said, "having a fan club is a little embarrassing. You've got to be at least 45 to remember me."

Liner On Last Trip

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — The 30-year-old Cunard liner Britannic sailed Friday on her last round trip voyage to New York. The 27,700-ton vessel eventually will be sold for scrap.
